This collection or this issue of the magazine is dedicated to those gay men who have shown their strong and powerful bodies with hard work and patience. Although famous photos have been taken of them, but the whole collection is taken from mascularstudio.com. After 20 years, I can now, with the permission of the creator of these works, write my opinion as a lover of gay bear men and tell them that you are the best in this world. The nakedness of the naked limbs and the naked limbs of the senses and even the pictures of your love game have greatly affected my men, and my love and feelings for such men have increased more and more. The country I am talking about is the United States of America. Be. A country that, in my opinion, as an Iranian and middle-aged gay man, is a country where everything is defined in a large size, including gay bear men, whose love is the most beautiful love in the world. You show and write in this collection. Cheers to all the bears in the world. And burly men far from any religion or ethnicity or character. As a semi-professional photographer, I wish I could be inspired by this collection of photos of men and their naked limbs and create a photo collection like this website. Far from being politicized in today's world, men are not always involved in politics, and perhaps we too can contribute to making America stronger again. They choose. Homosexuals who do not pretend to be gay or outside of politics can enjoy equal rights. This is the USA

DAVID GOLDENBERG

Over the years, as I have photographed men, I have spent a good deal of time considering context, place and surroundings. A photograph is loaded with messages and meaning, and capturing a man in his own surroundings or the ones he has chosen can add a great deal to an image

RANDY ADDISON

Born in a small town in coastal South Carolina, Randy Addison grew up among the traditions and trappings of Southern Gothic culture, the perfect inspiration to see the world with an artist's eye. Storytelling through words and art led to a BA in English and an MFA in Illustration.

GIANORSO

GianOrso is an Italian photographer, living in Rome, passionately obsessed with Classical Art, which has inspired and influenced his vision, his personal approach in portraiting the human body, in all the shapes, and in the search of his ideal beauty in an open range of possibilities and shades.

DUSTI CUNINGHAM

Los Angeles based photographer Dusti Cunningham grew up in a very clean single-wide trailer home in rural Kansas. His family didn't own television so they watched tornadoes. None of his dogs were named Toto. Dolly Parton and his mother were his heroes, both wore wigs. His inspirations are gypsies, pirates, circuses, '70s porn, '30s glamour, and the National Enquirer.

CHARLES THOMAS ROGERS

Male photography has seen huge growth over the past decade. An increasing number of talented artists have turned their focus to capturing male forms, male character and male relationships. In each case, the artist explores his perspectives and life experiences through his work.

CHRIS LOPEZ

With my cultural background and my exposure to the works of the European masters I have channeled my expressions through my preferred means of artistic expression such as oil, pastel, watercolor and acrylic. During the last decade, my work has been exhibited in numerous galleries in Europe and the United States. I have resided in Fort Lauderdale, Florida since 2001.

OLIVER ZEUKÉ

Oliver Zeuke was born in December 1973 in Bavaria, close to Munich and has been living in Düsseldorf since 2007. From holiday photos and snapshots his passion for photography developed. That's how he came up with his slogan "From snapshots to passion".

PETER ERZVO ZVONAR

We commend you on "DARK" which reflects a visual intensity, and a unique individual expression. Your impassioned lens in "WET" creatively encapsulates a unique artistic vision with luminescent positive energy as it radiates a lyrical, poetic artistic viewpoint. We enjoyed your sterling visual voyage in "BODY AND SOUL" with its sophisticated, compelling composition which reflects a unique sensitive "Third Eye".

VINCENT KEITH

In the spring of 2012, a group of like-minded gay men came together to create a new publication that draws from the creative talents of some unique individuals. The contributors and creators of Mascular Magazine come from all walks of life, work in fields that range from banking to medicine and teaching to aerobics, but they all share an interest in self expression through art.

BLACK LIV

ES MATTER

We are all proud of our culture, ethnicity and nationality that after many years when most homosexuals lived in secret and in fear and despair, now one of the most powerful lands in the world defends and recognizes gay marriage. However, even if this is one of the propaganda tools for politicians, we are still proud of what we are with the rainbow of all the lands of this vast world. Although we did not have the strength to fight this in countries like the Middle East, and metaphorically suffering from deep cultural poverty and religious misconceptions, there was still a window of hope beyond our countries for us to believe in ourselves. We have always considered love as a rainbow, although we have made our own enemies who believe that we are still mentally ill, but with a little research in the cultures of these lands that have been suppressing homosexuals for many years. We find that they themselves have experienced cultural contradictions, and those who were gay themselves have caused this great enmity. But again, history will somehow vote in favor of love and friendship, and the slogan of love is always love, known in the world with a rainbow.

Who is bear

In male gay culture, a bear is often a larger or obese hairier man who projects an image of rugged masculinity. Bears are one of many LGBT communities with events, codes, and a culture-specific identity. However, in San Francisco in the 1970s, any hairy man of whatever shape was referred to as a 'bear' until the term was appropriated by larger men, and other words had to be used to describe hairy other-shaped men such as otter (slim), cub (young bear on the way), or wolf (hairy, medium build). The word manatee describes a big, hairless man, i.e. a bear without hair.

The term bear was popularized by Richard Bulger, who, along with his then partner Chris Nelson (1960–2006), founded Bear Magazine in 1987. There is some contention surrounding whether Bulger originated the term and the subculture's conventions. George Mazzei wrote an article for The Advocate in 1979 called "Who's Who in the Zoo?", that characterized gay men as seven types of animals, including bears.

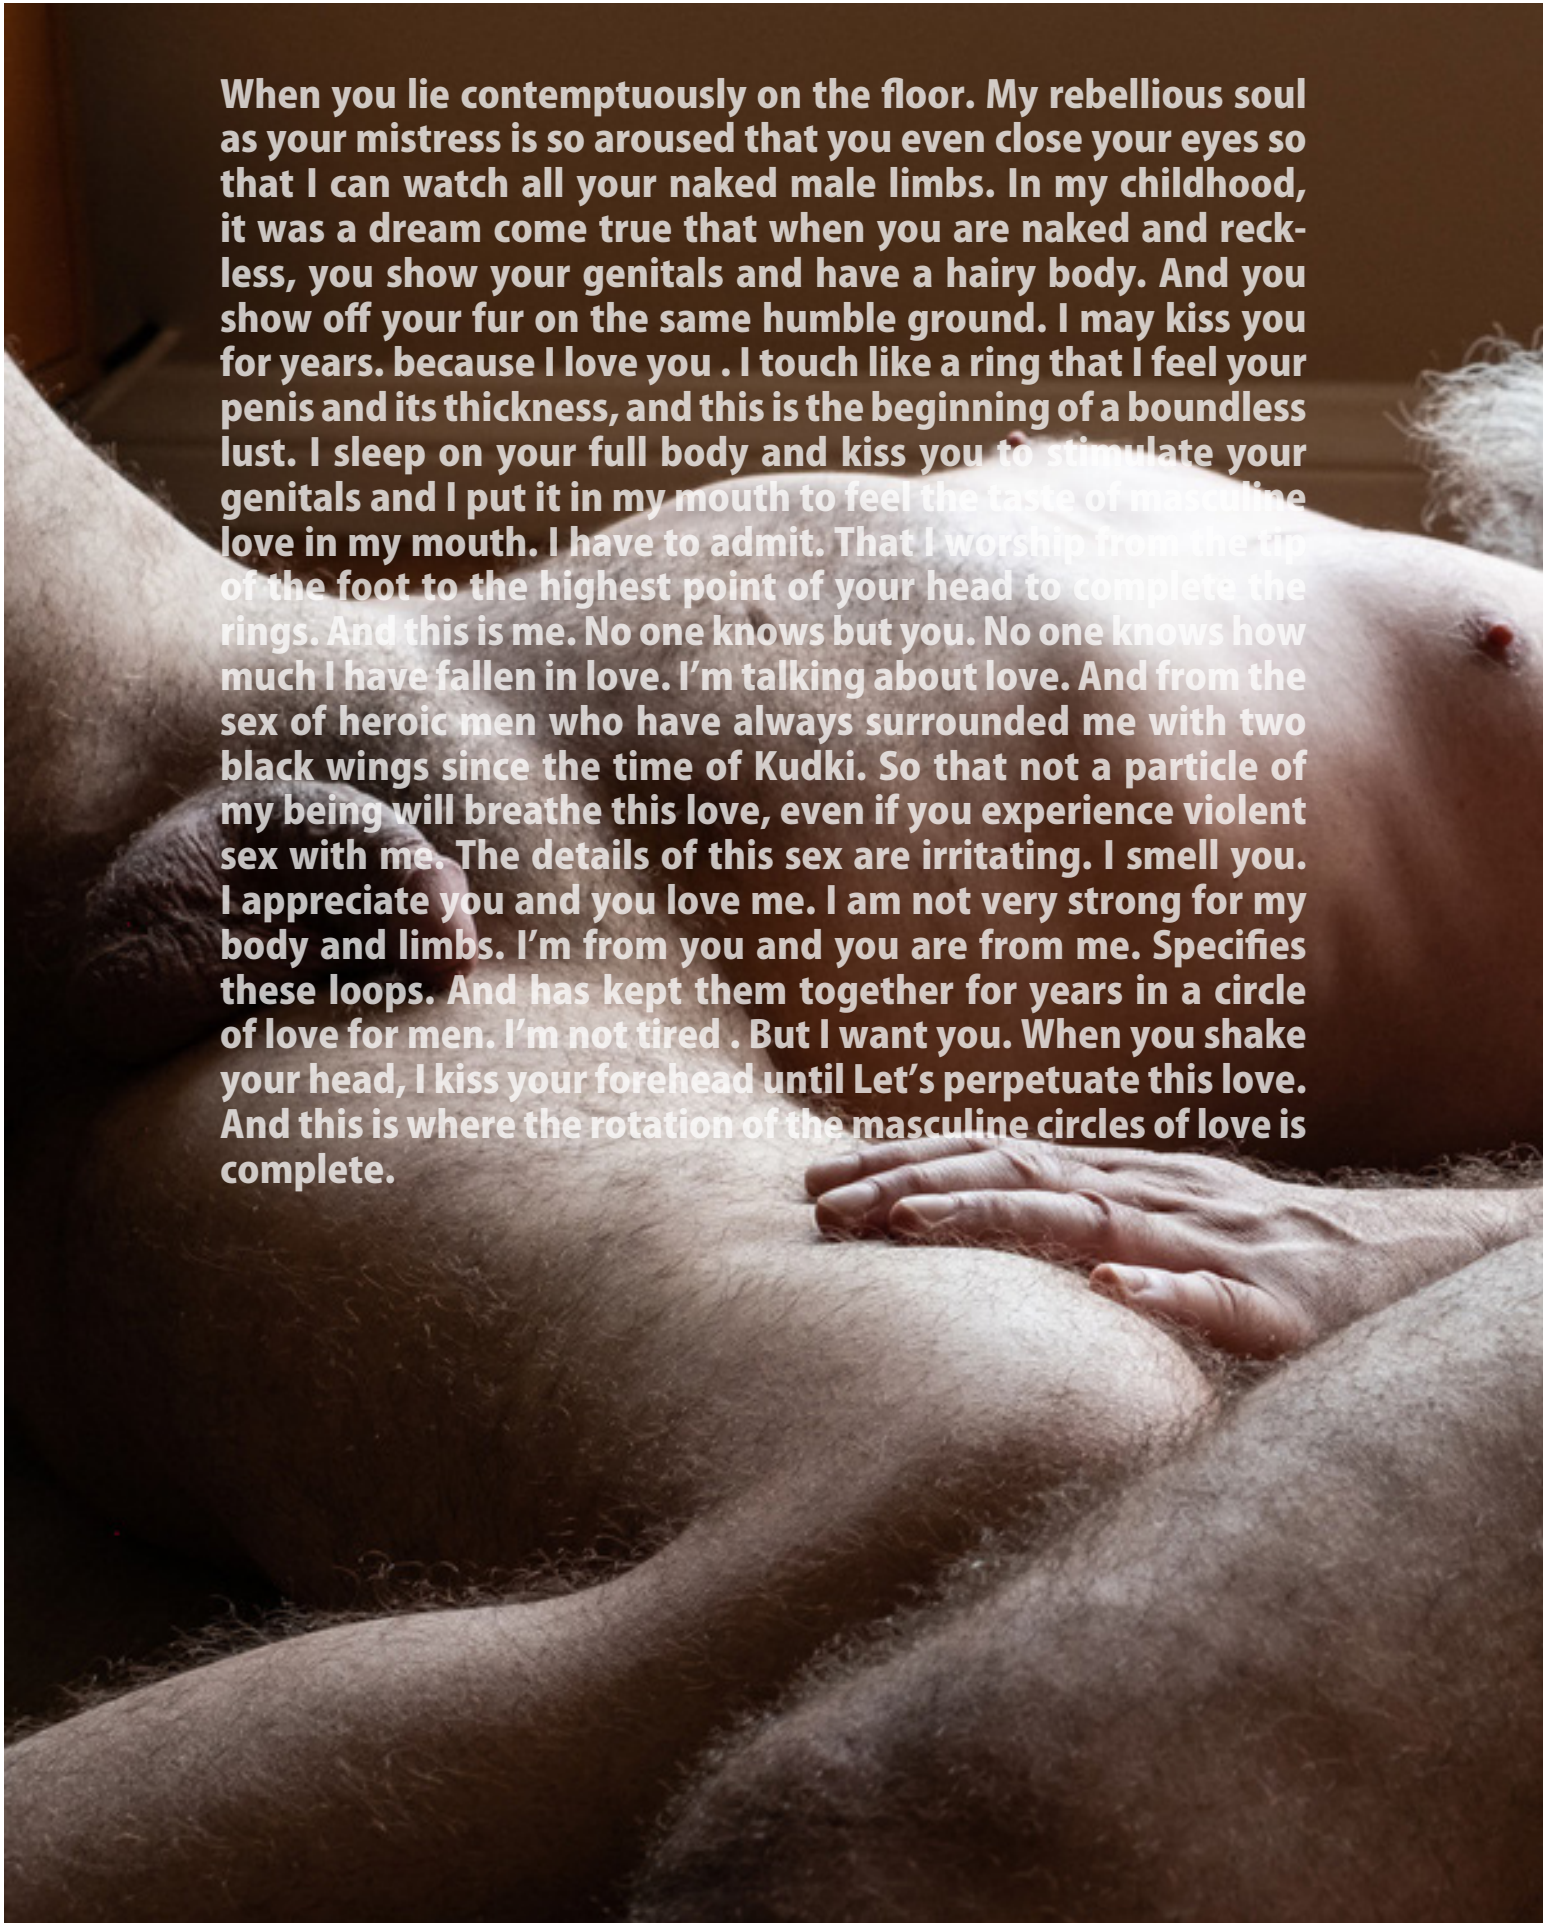

Bears celebrating the 2007 International Bear Rendezvous, an annual gathering of bears and bear-lovers held in San Francisco
The bear concept can function as an identity or an affiliation, and there is ongoing debate in bear communities about what constitutes a bear. Some bears place importance on presenting a clear masculine image and may disdain or shun men who exhibit effeminacy, while others consider acceptance and inclusiveness of all behavioural types to be an important value of the community.

The bear community consists primarily of gay or bisexual men. However, as LGBT culture and modern slang has taken on a wider appeal in modern society, it is possible to call a hairy and burly straight man a bear, although they would not be strictly part of the gay bear community. Increasingly, those who shun labels for gender and sexuality are also included within bear communities.[8] However, heterosexual men who have bearish physical traits and are affirming of their gay friends and family (or their gay fans, in the case of a celebrity) may also be informally accorded "honorary" bear status. A smaller number of lesbians, particularly those who are butch, also participate in bear culture, referring to themselves with the distinct label of ursula

Watching you is the most beautiful gift for me that I think like you. We kiss your neck. From the pungent smell of your sweat, I realize how you show masculinity to me. This is the way a man looks at another man and we appreciate it. We appreciate it. For the gift of this masculine character. We all know our knowledge and insight in a circle of character. A ring made of moonlight. In the dark we touch our furry limbs and bodies. Under the moonlight. We are the guardians of the rings of masculinity. Although we love our homosexuals, this love may be sacred to us. That's why we all think. Great men have always loved their homosexuality to complete the lunar cycle, just like our ancestors who always put the greatness of man at the forefront. And they taught us to maintain our masculine appearance from childhood. And to love men. We love each other.

A close-up photograph of a person's hairy back and shoulder, with a hand resting on the skin. The lighting is warm and intimate, highlighting the texture of the hair and the contours of the body. The text is overlaid on the left side of the image.

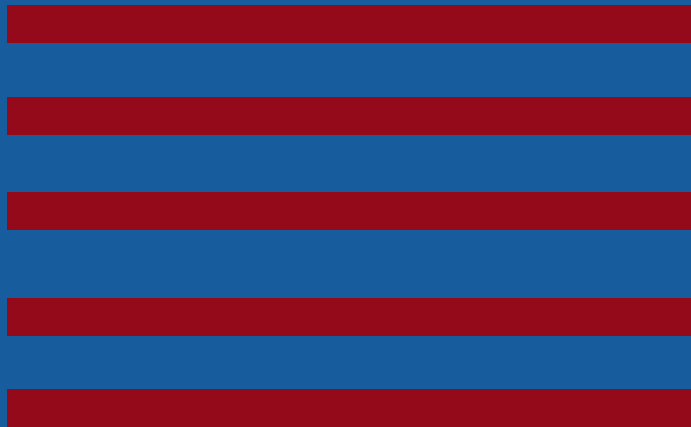

When you lie contemptuously on the floor. My rebellious soul as your mistress is so aroused that you even close your eyes so that I can watch all your naked male limbs. In my childhood, it was a dream come true that when you are naked and reckless, you show your genitals and have a hairy body. And you show off your fur on the same humble ground. I may kiss you for years. because I love you . I touch like a ring that I feel your penis and its thickness, and this is the beginning of a boundless lust. I sleep on your full body and kiss you to stimulate your genitals and I put it in my mouth to feel the taste of masculine love in my mouth. I have to admit. That I worship from the tip of the foot to the highest point of your head to complete the rings. And this is me. No one knows but you. No one knows how much I have fallen in love. I'm talking about love. And from the sex of heroic men who have always surrounded me with two black wings since the time of Kudki. So that not a particle of my being will breathe this love, even if you experience violent sex with me. The details of this sex are irritating. I smell you. I appreciate you and you love me. I am not very strong for my body and limbs. I'm from you and you are from me. Specifies these loops. And has kept them together for years in a circle of love for men. I'm not tired . But I want you. When you shake your head, I kiss your forehead until Let's perpetuate this love. And this is where the rotation of the masculine circles of love is complete.

OUR Moon Rings

We take care of it. So that no enemy separates us and we appreciate it. Forever

We have learned from tradition to keep masculinity alive. We have learned from tradition so that we can provide a modern and acceptable love for heroes. We have always been in love. We did not see anything of the opposite sex as masculinity. We just wasted our time. Oh and what a burning. This love burns inside and burns. To the height of every single strand of body and face hair that makes us happy.

MASCULAR

LOVE IS LOVE

We created a very thought-provoking slogan to define love in absolute reality. Not in what our fathers promote. Love is always love. We talk about masculinity between homosexuals or between cheddar and boys. We love men. So love. There is love that remains stable and powerful. Although sex completes it. But still love without sex is meaningless and absurd.

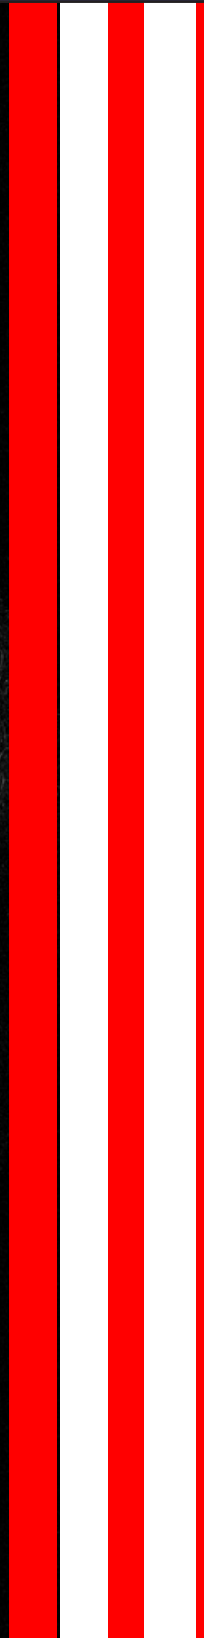

HOMOLOVE IS BEAUTIFUL

Two men in a bed while a powerful kiss does not separate them. They are pairs. In bed, they play with all their male organs to provoke each other. What a scene of beauty. What a lasting love. I just throw it around your big neck to catch it in the asshole and your genitals, which is your thick dick, sink into my hot ass and I get endless pleasure from feeling the weight of the net on my body. I have fallen in love with your hairy lips. To hug me and experience the pleasure of sex with me. I rub the muscular breasts with my tongue so that I can convey the feeling of lust to you. How successful I was in this. I swallow your genitals again or slang dick to taste the white juice of masculinity in my mouth. After many hours we hugged in a bed and had a sexy fire. Now we can talk to each other again. And from time to time we kiss each other on the lips to make love last.

Homosexuals reach this point of love. They reach orgasm and they are still thirsty for love with each other. To the extent that they kiss each other's hands and whisper love. They rub their body hairs on each other so that they do not forget that the other side is a man in love and lustful with a bear-like man whose even the smell of sweat intoxicates us. How beautiful it is that this love game is on a white bed and the light course illuminates only a part of it. This is the true love of two gay couples. Just like same-sex marriage. Maybe more beautiful. It is redder and more lustful than others who see it.

For me, America has always been the giant gay men I loved to love in my homeland.

LOVE

Love is beautiful. Hug me man. Your rough hands make me feel like flying. Hug me dear. I adore the muscular body of the net with that fur on my woolly breasts and legs. So touch me and say that love in the real world between two men is beautiful and nothing can compare to it.

Two parts. Two loves. Two hairy and furry gay men. I have known them for many years. Two couples that are inseparable. They showed love through their camera lens. Two bearded men with strong and stocky bodies. The two men in our line who are masculine, although gay and married, were able to gain a lot of popularity among gay bears. They are Oliver and his amazing partner who are the founders of Menship Magazine. It was a great job for us that we always provided the conditions with photography and writing so that I could get to know each other more and more and become aware of our strengths and weaknesses. We always put this happy couple on our plate and model. To inspire them. Among the photos of their limbs, there are some amazing photos that non-gay men are also excited to see, and this may not be our goal, but it is a very important point that we may have been surprised by. Photography of thick and powerful hands that can provoke in the industry, which is embedded in men's work and in our opinion is the sexiest hands of a man.

They show their masculinity and we all love to see and touch bears. The photos were taken with very special creativity with closed views. Sometimes from the penis and sometimes from the thick-haired neck or thick furry breasts and a large number of photos that have satisfied men like us. Dear Oliver, we all support your art as a successful couple and you are always our inspiration. We also try to show a big, beautiful and masculine body, or sometimes we frame our private love game so that the viewers fall in love and see life through your eyes. Your work is valuable. Its value is sacred to us, not to sanctification like religion for homosexual love. We always follow your artwork and work with you seriously. To spread this homosexual love among gay bears and real men as much as possible with new and fresh creations and new ideas. Hope for that day. Dear Oliver

PORTRAIT OF REAL MEN

The first look or perhaps the first pulse of a man's face can be well understood when he has shown that visual violence as a real man in his face. Maybe sometimes with a bearded face or a thick mustache or maybe with a lustful laugh that it is the most common of all gay bears. Sometimes a lustful wink rips another man's penis apart and prepares him to start having sex. Sometimes they laugh and sometimes they are nervous. When a big man is nervous, I, as a gay man, like to sit for hours and watch that rough face, and maybe kiss him on the lips so that he, too, will be tamed little by little. Just like the wax you play on your hands. The flexibility of a bearded man's face is so attractive that the unconscious man is impressed and sees him in his arms. When he laughs, you laugh with him and show a masculine face. That's why I call big men real men. Real men cry sometimes, but their crying can never diminish their masculine charm. Crying for a man can also be a sign of weakness, but regardless of gender, a man's passion always overcomes a man's facial mimicry, making him more lustful and attractive. From childhood, I defended from school principals to warlords against the weak until I grew up, and I always laughed and cried with their smiling faces. This is the face of real men.

it is your turn

I mentioned somewhere that asexual sex was obscene, but I meant something else. Playing with men's limbs and having hard sex with them among homosexuals make it clear that men understand each other better, and this is not strange. Maybe I get used to playing with gay bears so that I don't consider other men real men. This is not a bad thing, this is one of my moral qualities that I have always been proud of. We do not understand being obscene because we are all men and we play with men. My winning card is the same harmless violence that I have always been proud of in bears. They move in one line and one character. And they make sex gambling that everyone is satisfied with. So this time it is your turn to show your winning card to everyone and show it to show the peacock-like beauty to others. The male animal is always more beautiful than the female animal and this has been the nature of this world.

it is your turn

Eagerness to be muscular

Maybe victory is in the big and muscular limbs. Men always like to have big and muscular limbs. Of course, this is true of most bears. It makes a man's muscles strong and well-formed, and shows off his limbs, just like a tree with deep roots.

This large tree can also be seen in the dark and its glare blinds the eyes. It may be a sign of jealousy on the part of other men. The muscle is rough. It should be rough. Because it is consistent with its essence. Muscle is beautiful when an eye follows it and makes it feel lustful. This muscular tree longs to be fitter. Stronger. And more powerful. The muscle is stiff like a rock. Gray. And colorless. Men always look in the mirror. To show off their power. For homosexuals, the mirror is one of the tools that they never forget to look at this big tree even once. Because they love homosexuality. Look with skepticism at ourselves whether we love ourselves or someone else. This is a question I always ask myself and I do not always find the answer!

ARRESTED MOVEMENT

BY Anthony Patrick Manieri

Anthony Patrick Manieri addresses the theme of body positivism in the male universe with the Arrested Movement project.

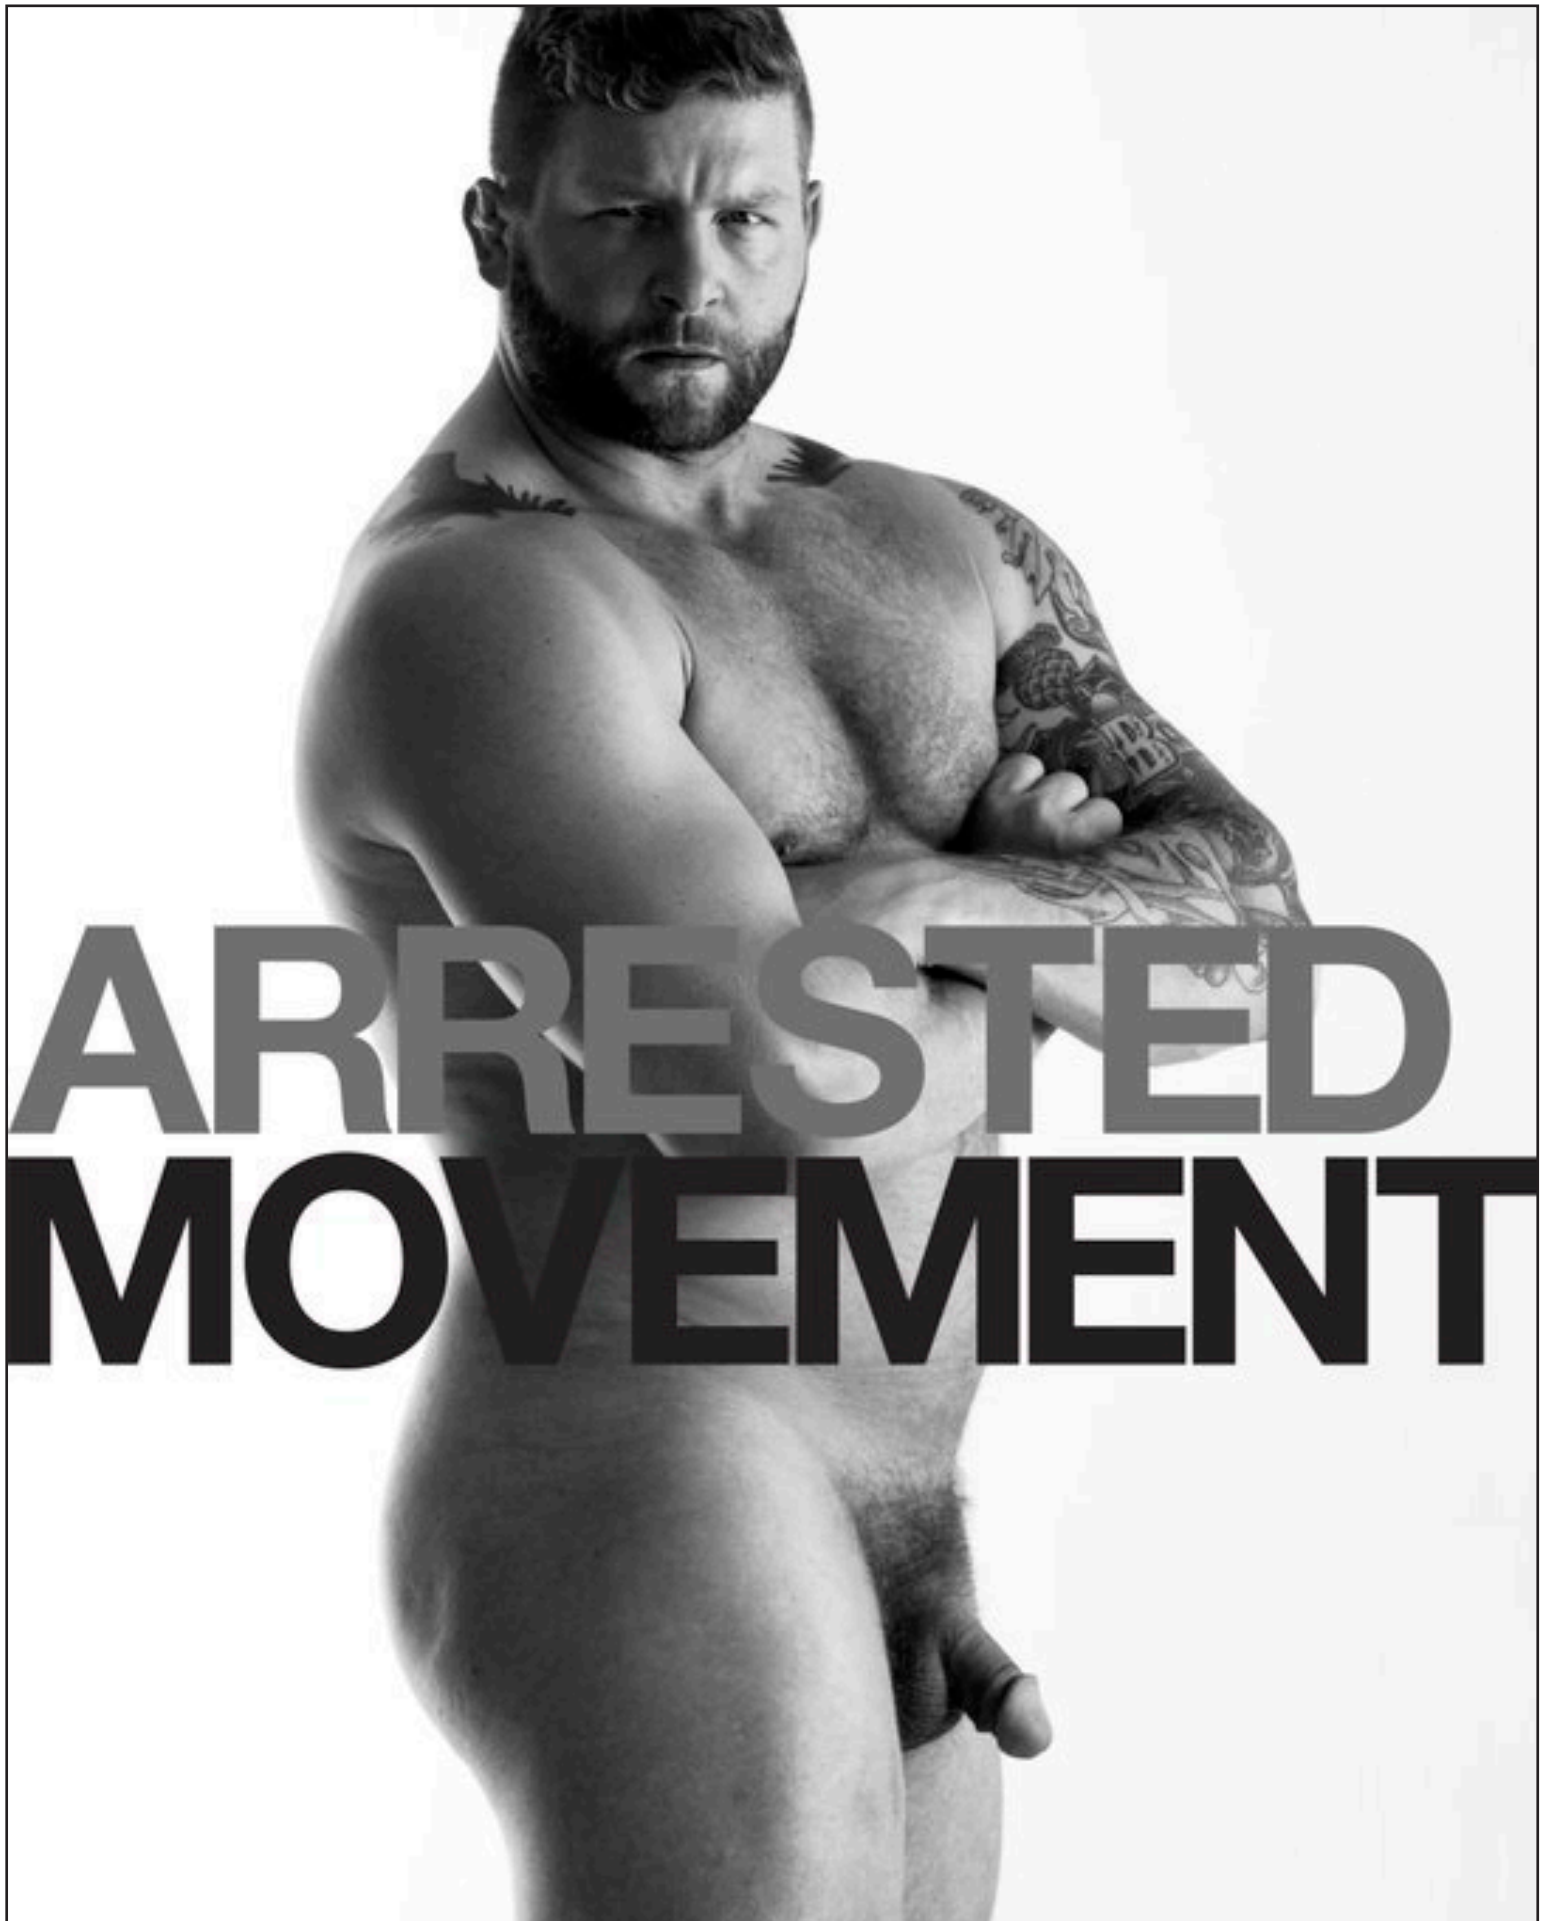

Negli ultimi anni il mondo della moda e dell'arte si sono confrontati ampiamente sull'accettazione e inclusione di diverse tipologie di bellezza del femminile, ma l'argomento ne ha avuto lo stesso approfondimento per quanto riguarda l'uomo.

Social media, cinema and television continue to promote the stereotype of the strong man, virile and statuesque, generating a sense of frustration and undermining the self-esteem of those who do not respect certain models. Manieri fights this phenomenon with Arrested Movement, a series of initiatives to raise awareness on the topic of body positivism all around the world.

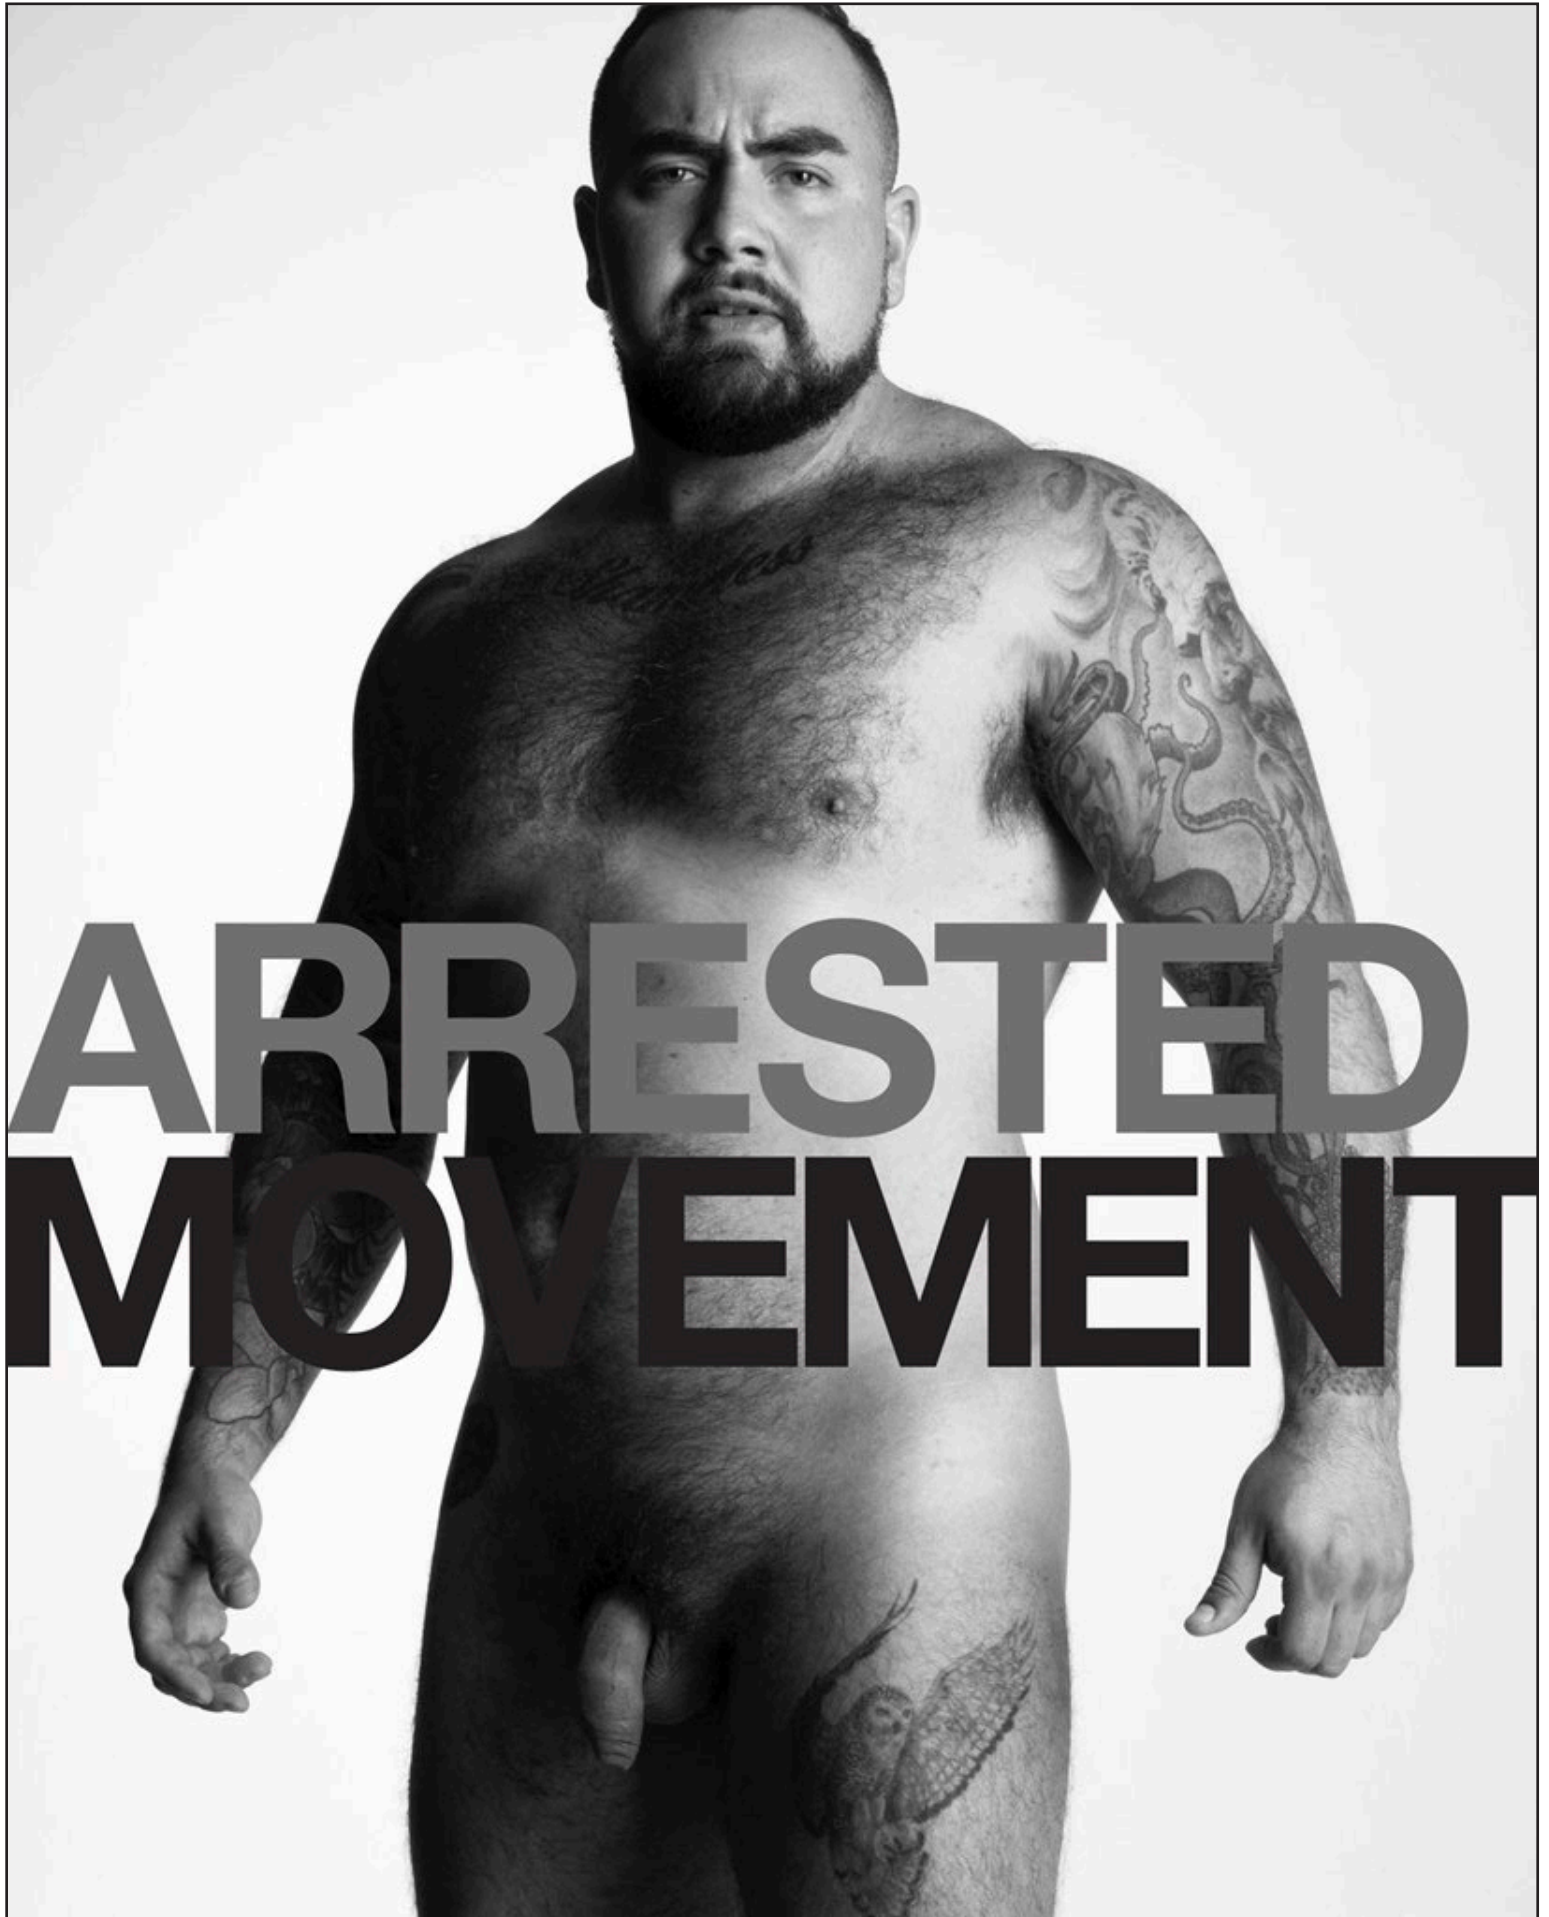

The series of photographs we present is considering the manifestation of the movement initiated by Manieri which at the same time is exploring many interests to be part of the gallery and editors in all the world.

The protagonists of the series are the catharsis of Manieri at the moment of most of the revival, when conspiracies and fears of the body exposing the propria anima giving the object of the photograph.

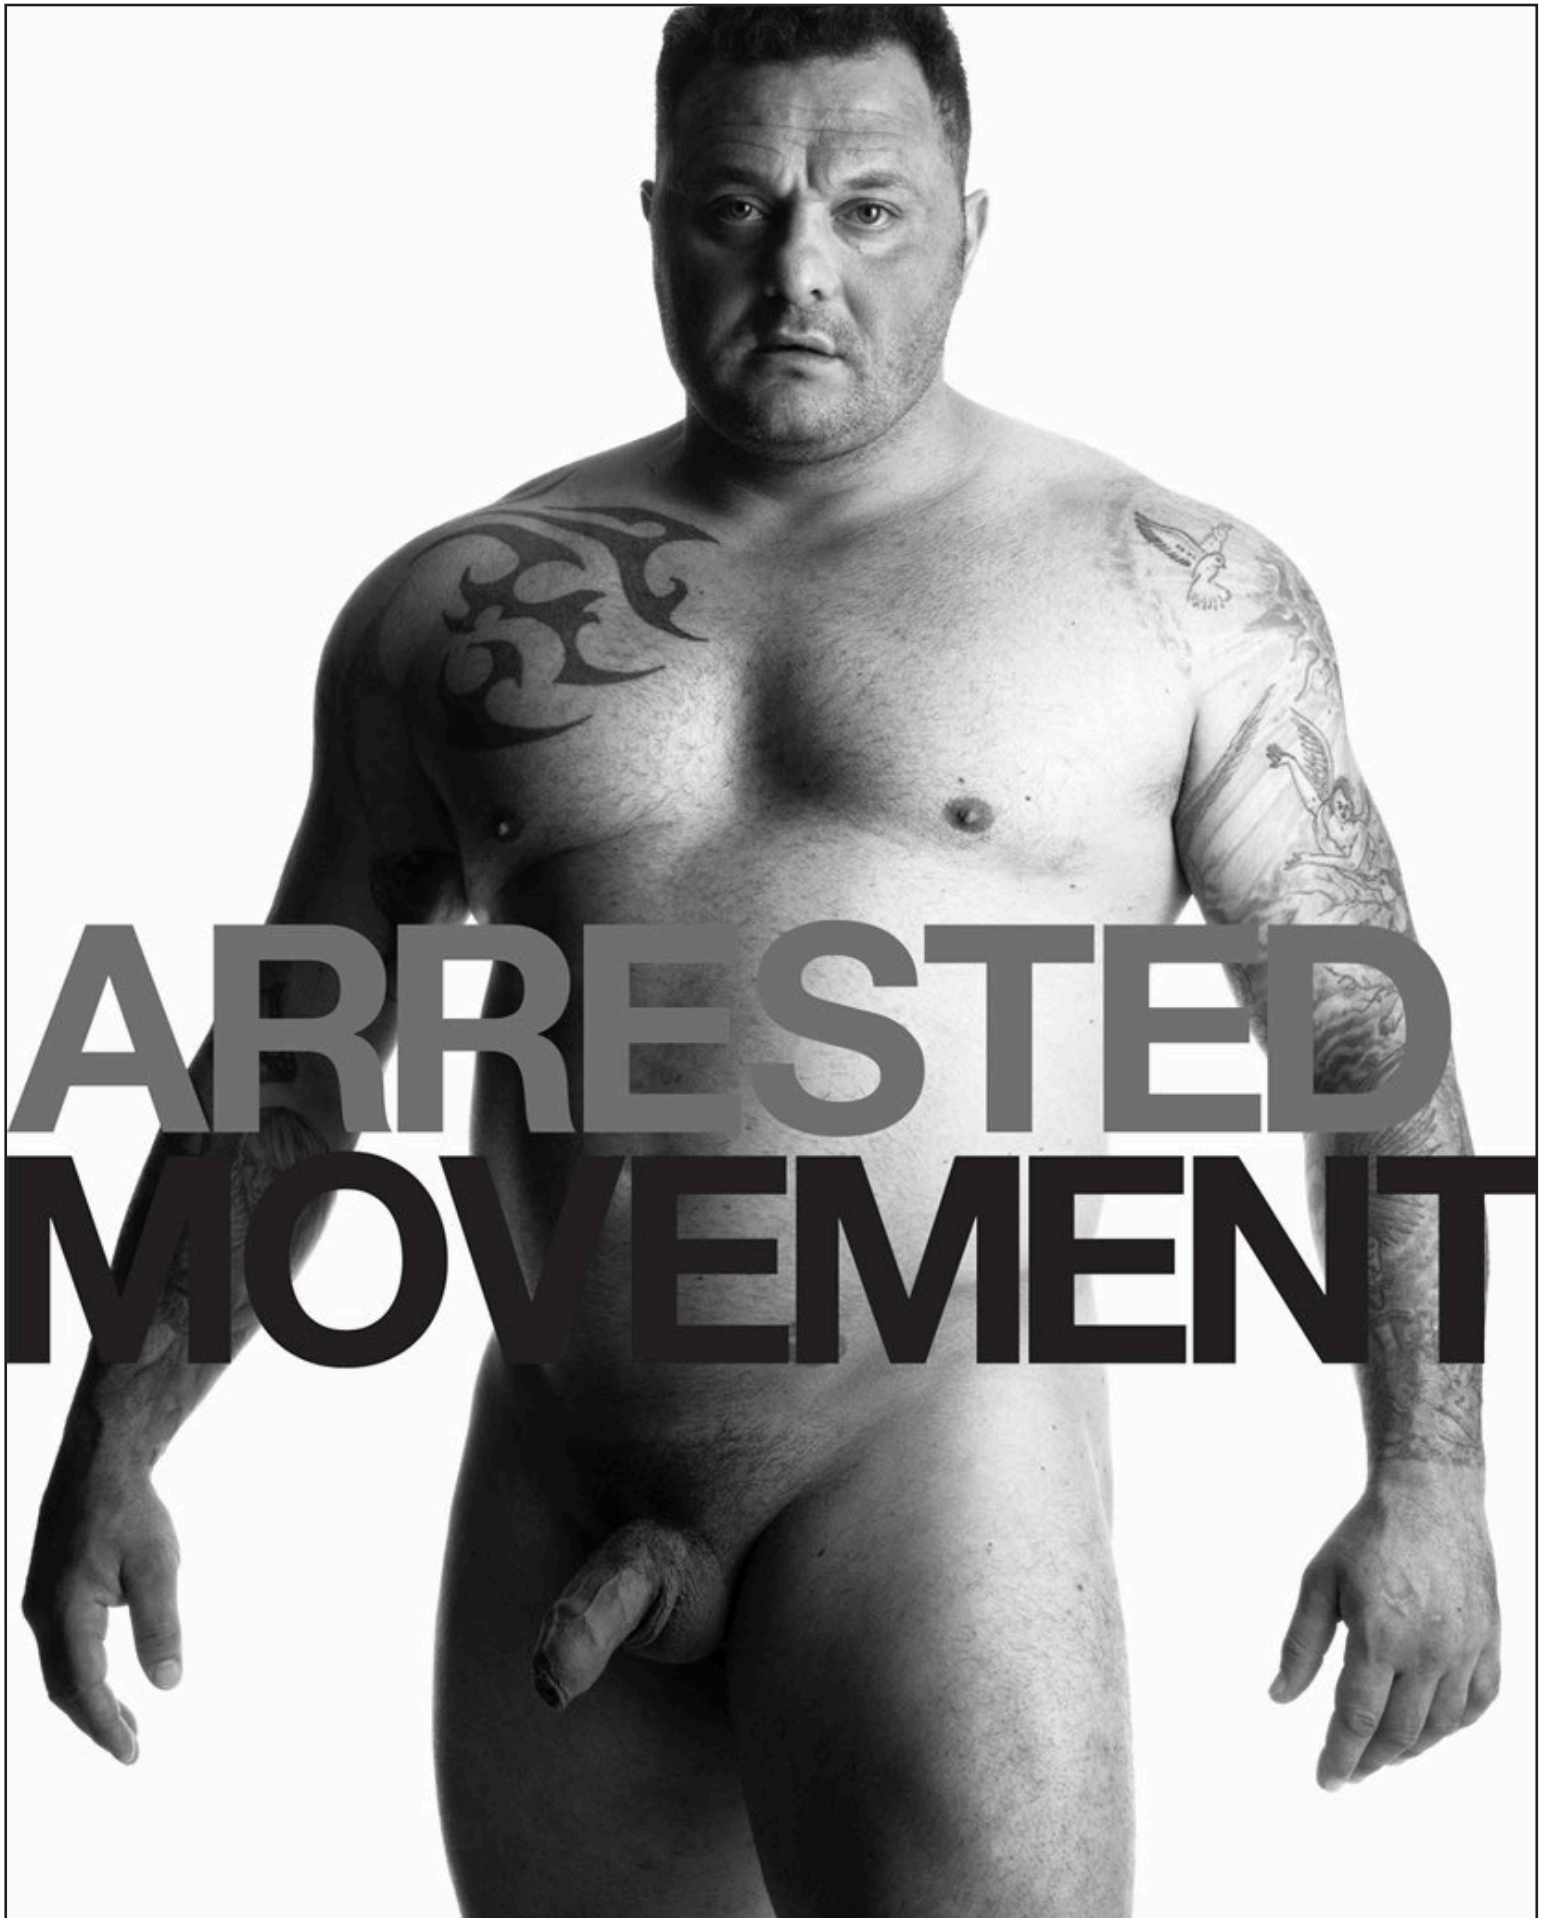

Arrested Movement's lens is intended to carry a self-tuning message, authenticity and inclination of each type of male beauty.

A novel about a lonely and lost man in nowhere

The heat of the scorching sun burns on my skin. I walk. On the shore where the only happiness is the shipwreck that shows off like a mirage from afar. I walk. Faster and slower. I take off my clothes. I get naked. Maybe the cool breeze from the beach will calm me down. I'm lost. And I see myself alone. From a distance, a wooden hut catches my eye and I reach it quickly. I get more naked. Sometimes I play with my genitals so as not to forget lust. How I wish I could hug another man next to me. I escape life alone. I drop myself on the beach sand. I found myself alone when he no longer wanted me. I lost my love. Now I'm naked. single . A sexy man who wants warm hugs on the beach. I want to shout so that the depths of the sea can hear my voice. But I can not. I play with myself again. single . I was always naked and I loved myself. Someone's voice comes in the distance. I get up and hit the ground again. I am thirsty and lust has taken hold of me. I rush to that distant voice. It was a mirage that brought me back to loneliness. How tired I am lying on the sand and staring at the sun. A lonely man lost on the shore with a wrecked ship that might one day take me to sea.

View of refuge men in the FOREST

I was fast asleep. I opened my eyes slowly. I found myself in a lush and desolate forest. Maybe my body had moved from place to place. Tired, I lifted myself off the ground. I saw a road to nowhere. Unwillingly, I took the road and started walking fast. Among the ghost trees I saw naked men moving fast, and I was terrified. At the end of the road I saw another group of strong men standing naked and smiling at me. I sat down on the floor and put my hands on the floor so that they might not hurt me in this way. They got closer and closer and each of them lifted me and hugged me. They all shouted in unison to welcome the sexy man to the forest refugees.

I calmed down and they took off my clothes. Maybe six or seven of them just started licking my body and they all said we are all open. They said we have food but we will water you with our lust. They brought their dicks close to my face and I started eating. Although I was very scared. They put me among the leaves that had fallen on the ground and each of them watered themselves with my buttocks and holes. Tired of this immense lust, I did not want to leave. But they said your time is up and we are waiting for the next guest. Their whole palate was spilled on my naked body and my face, and I ate and licked them involuntarily and out of thirst. They fed me and left me naked in the forest. They were strange men. All their service for sex to the newly arrived guests in this forest was deserted. I had a strange pain in my buttocks. But I was so satisfied that I could not walk. I spent the night in front of them and they showed me new sex again with a strange ceremony. I woke up and saw with a smile that my buttocks and body were drowning in the mouths of refugee men in the forest. I laughed and fell asleep again. The road I had always followed had come to an end in a dream, and two burly men were making love and kissing each other on the lips. I also offered to join them and they embraced me with open arms and love. And I fell into a deep sleep again. And I stayed in the same desolate refugee forest forever.

These big, refugee men were the same men I dreamed of. They make me orgasm. So why should I leave them. On this endless road. Our lust and love hold refugee men together to occasionally host lust parties. So we all love them and I know they were all gay. We love. And we give love. We love each other. We men are refugees in the forest.

We strong sexy men are refugees in the forest.

AND WE LOVE EACH OTHERS

In male bisexual and gay culture, a Bear is a large, hairy man who projects an image of rugged masculinity. Bears are one of many LGBT communities with events, codes, and a culture-specific identity.

Some Bears place importance on presenting a hypermasculine image and may shun interaction with, and even disdain, men who exhibit effeminacy. The Bear concept can function as an identity, an affiliation, and there is ongoing debate in Bear communities about what constitutes a Bear, however a consensus exists that inclusion is an important part of the Bear community. In particular, many bear community organizations define inclusiveness as a central value of the movement, such that anyone who supports values such as “having a good attitude to life, friends and helping the local community”, is welcome in the Bear community regardless of appearance, although the view that physical characteristics are central to the Bear identity is still seen in many other definitions.

Bears are almost always gay or bisexual men. Increasingly, transgender or transsexual men (trans men) and those who shun labels for gender and sexuality are also included within Bear communities. However, heterosexual men who have Bearish physical traits and are affirming of their gay friends and family (or their gay fans, in the case of a celebrity) may also be informally accorded “honorary” Bear status. A smaller number of lesbians, particularly butch dykes, also participate in Bear culture, referring to themselves with the distinct label of ursula.

BDSM

In BDSM, Master/slave, M/s or sexual slavery is a relationship in which one individual serves another in an authority-exchange structured relationship. Unlike Dominant/submissive structures found in BDSM in which love is often the core value, service and obedience are often the core values in Master/slave structures.[1] The participants may be of any gender or sexual orientation. The relationship uses the term "slave" because of the association of the term with ownership rights of a master to their slave's body, as property or chattel. While male "masters" will usually be referred to as "Master", whether or not female Masters are referred to as "Master" or "Mistress" may depend upon whether they identify as following the leather subculture or BDSM path, or simply preference.[1]:27–30

Sexual slavery in a BDSM context is both a sexual fantasy and sexual roleplay.[2] The slave master or mistress might be any person or group, though the majority of such relationships are usually either one dominant, or a committed dominant couple, owning one or more slaves. A sex slave and the owner, and others involved in the relationship, can be of any gender, sexual identity, or orientation

Celebrating

I was a soldier in the cold of winter. It was a day when the commander questioned me several times and I, who did not expect to be questioned at all, just stared into his eyes, maybe the love I have for him. Loosen him. After all the administrative work in the barracks, I went to the barracks to take a shower in that scorching cold. As soon as I entered the barracks, the other soldiers took off all my clothes and stripped me naked. They even grabbed my dick and someone came to the other corner and started sucking for me to get ready before taking a shower. Everyone was laughing and I was still thinking about my commander. He had a tall chest and a furry belly, and his dick always protruded from the trousers of his military personnel, and I always looked at his dick. He always blinks at me. Maybe he liked me. A 50-year-old man with a thick beard and a very large body, neither fat nor thin. Now I was in the shower with my dick while my dick was splitting. I tried to compose myself. But I was an insect and lustful. I dried myself up and was very upset and angry with the jokes of other soldiers. I put on warm clothes and went out for a breather. I took a cigarette from one of my soldiers and close friends in the yard and found a cozy corner to smoke a pack safely and be a little more comfortable. But suddenly, in the darkness, which was 5 pm on a winter day, I saw my commander running towards my hideout. I think someone leaked it to me and gave me my report. I was surprised to see him running towards me. When to me Amad shouted loudly, "What are you doing wrong here, soldier?" I, who had mostly emptied, said in a trembling voice, "Commander, I have come to breathe."

He quickly took the cigarette from my hand and threw it to the other side, and I was about to cry. And suddenly he slapped me on the ear, which I will not forget to this day.

But he quickly looked around and hugged me and started kissing my lips. As he hugged me, I felt his stiff dick rub against my abdomen. He looked around again to make sure no one was around. He took my hand and said, "I have a job to do with you. Come to my office." I also lowered my head and followed him.

When we got to the office. The whole corridor was dark and only the lights in the commander's room were on. He took my hand and pushed me into the room and locked the door. I was shocked to see his smile. I did not know what to do. I quickly thought that he hugged me again and whispered in my ear that he loves me and wants to stay with him tonight and be happy. There was a large sofa in the corner of the office that he opened and put me to sleep on. He handed me a cigarette and lit it for me, and he lit a cigarette. I was surprised and scared again. He put me to sleep on the couch and lay on me. He gave up smoking halfway. He started kissing me and successive kisses on my neck and chin and always said you are mine. Suddenly he began to take off his military uniform, and I helped.

Wow, I couldn't believe it was a hairy body with a firm belly and thick, muscular breasts. I quickly took off my clothes and lay down on the couch. He came to the couch in his pants and took my hand and put it on his thick dick and I touched it. My God is thick with two large testicles.

He told me to take off my pants and I quickly opened them. When I took out his thick dick, I started to suck involuntarily. I was so insecure for him that I swallowed all his buttocks and testicles at once and he sighed manfully.

He asked me to lie on the couch and then lay on me and lick my whole neck with his tongue. He had a furry back and waist and I was going crazy. I shouted involuntarily, "Commander, fuck me." He, meanwhile, started licking my buttocks and hitting me several times with his heavy hand. And he quickly put his thick dick next to my buttocks and wet it with pressure and a little saliva. Suddenly he put his dick in my hole and I asked him to calm down and he pressed harder so that I could calm down. I arrived, while going up and down behind me. Suddenly he shouted and put me on the couch and then played with his thick dick so that he poured his palate in my mouth and said this gift of your commander to the conscientious soldier and ready to serve me.

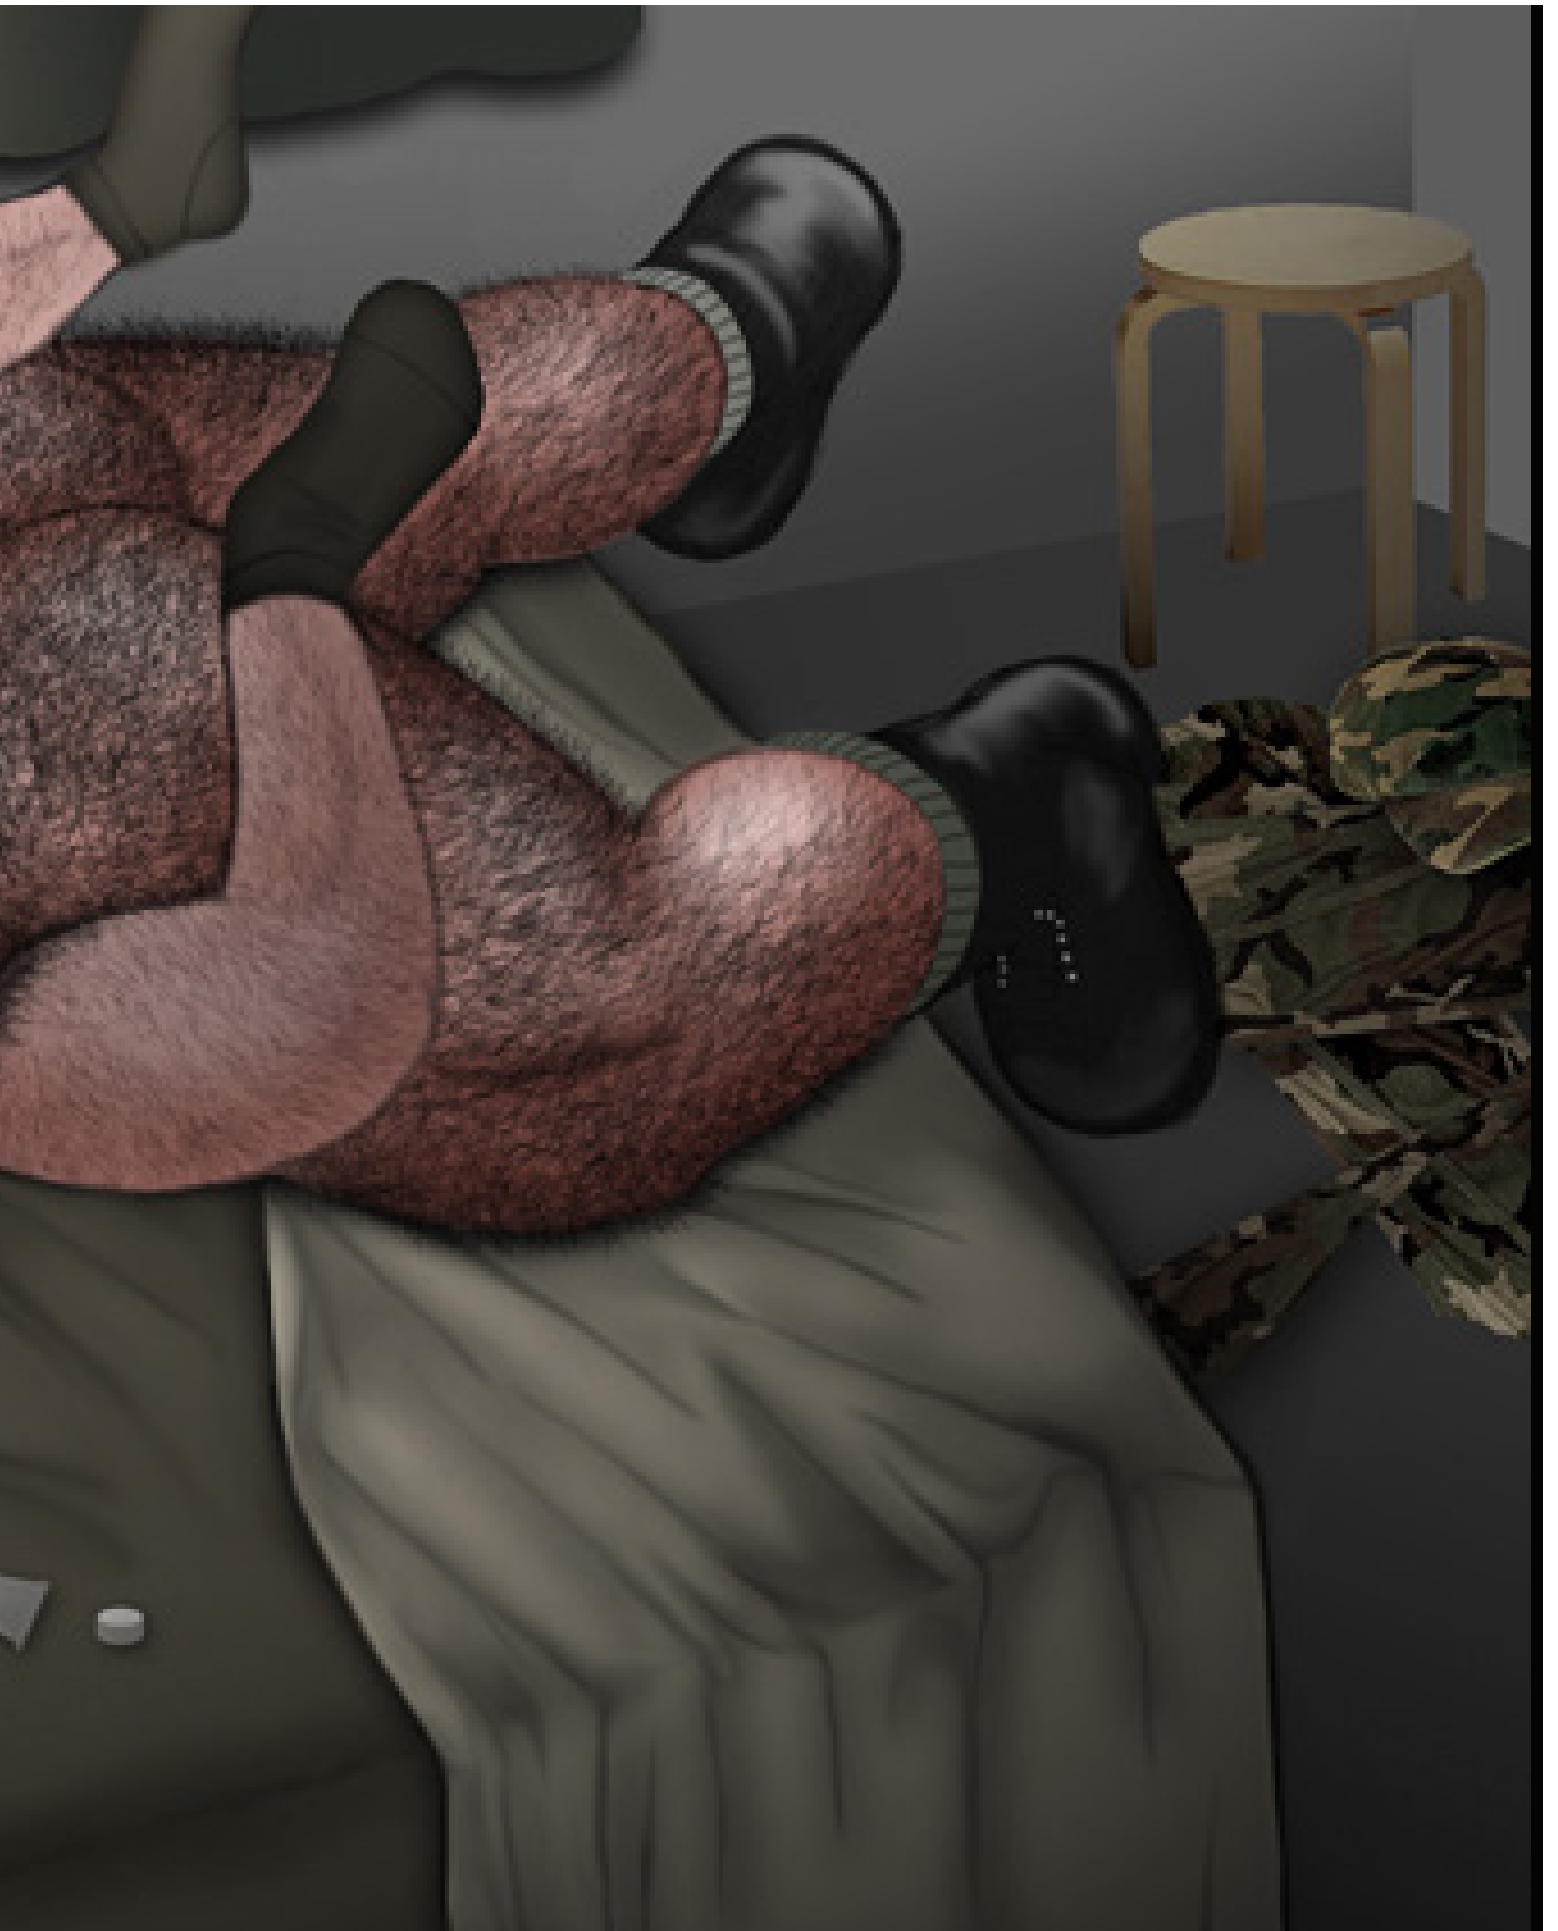

Then he lay down next to me, gave me a cigarette and put a cigarette on his lips and hit me hard on the buttocks and told me to stay by my side at night. My room in Wu Barracks is safe. After smoking for 30 minutes, he played with his thick beard and furry body and kissed her on the lips.

We woke up early in the morning and put on our military uniforms after kissing. I greeted the commander with a military salute and he shouted again. "Your butt is mine and you are always ready to serve." I laughed and left the room with a few sheets of paper. I was so happy that I forgot to tie my shoelaces. After that night, I would sometimes go to the commander's room and we would celebrate love together until morning. Hoping for the victory of love is the most beautiful and lustful sexual organ among living beings

THE HUMAN PENIS

I'm a gay man. I have always had a strong interest in seeing men's genitals since childhood. Perhaps it can be said that I was addicted to seeing the penis or dick of hairy and burly men. Most gay men Dick men are the most beautiful sexual organs in humans. I like thick, circumcised men more for sucking and hard sex. But I would prefer this sexual organ to be on big men and heroes so that the pleasure of seeing and playing with it would be doubled. Men's dick is one of the strangest spots in the gay world that men are always sensitive to. Its size, length and diameter are more beautiful than the testicles that are under this male flesh. Among animals, having a thick dick and a man is one of the most important principles of sex. Many men are sensitive to the size of their penis, which is naturally normal. Because a wide range of men, both normal and bear-like, like to have large and thick sexual organs in order to give more pleasure to themselves and the other party during sex. I and other homosexuals love bear man dick. The pleasure of sucking and even licking it and men's testicles is pleasant and satisfying for us. That's why I believe the male genitalia are the most beautiful part of the male body for gay people. Sexual pleasure with a male dick is several times higher than sex with a man with a normal dick, and this is an important factor for most homosexuals. This has not been conclusively proven, but relatively all homosexuals think so. A boneless flesh that tightens with blood flow during lust and is the most beautiful sexual organ in all of humanity. With a delicious milky cream, eating it multiplies sexual satisfaction.

Love is red

Love between homosexuals is redder, the color of blood flowing in our veins. The red color of our cheeks when we kiss our lips. There is red love. Gay love is ORANGE and more mature and reddish at sunset. And sea BLUE is a masculine color that introduces us men as men. Our color combination represents the color of homosexual love.

David GOLDENBERG

Media creator and photographer

I understand the awkwardness of sleeping without a sexual partner. Or maybe a lot of gays. Goldenberg portrayed this lust without sex so well that every time I see his clips I remind my mistresses why I am still without a sexual partner. It is painful and accompanied by deep crying from the depths of my being. That even life no longer means anything to me. I love you David

MASS, the first in a series of short films by Sam Hendi and David Goldenberg, studies the masculinity of men and their attraction to other men.

The short explores the connections between men through body language and portraits attraction distilled into it's most basic essence.

The staging is bare by design leaving the viewer to apply different backdrops to the characters and scenarios based on their own personal experience. The characters represent various demographics of the bear community.

The absence of voice intensifies the atmosphere leaving the viewer to create a story about how he identifies with the characters. Even though there are no explicit acts in the video, the atmosphere is overloaded with sexual anticipation.

Sam Hendi is a creative producer and an all-round filmmaker covering practical skills in all aspects of video production including producing, directing, editing, visual effects and cinematography. He has a degree in Contemporary Media Practice and a vast list of screenings and awards to his credit. Several of his short films have competed in film festivals worldwide including the US, Denmark, France, Switzerland, New Zealand, Brazil and the UK. The BBC and an American TV channel took notice and broadcasted some of his work. Sam also specialises in creative forms of video such as abstract video-art, atmospheric short films and videos for backdrops and exhibitions. These videos showcase imaginative storytelling, visual effects and cinematic flare. Sam has also worked on a number of music videos for upcoming artists in the music scene, ranging in a variety of music styles and themes.

Sam's versatility extends to creating exciting and engaging content for corporate and social media. This includes work on motion graphics, illustrations and video marketing; pushing boundaries for clients in generating fast-paced content but staying within tight budgets and constrained guidelines. In short, Sam can take on any brief or even the smallest idea, and conceptualise it into unique video content tailored to the clients needs.

DADDY WILL ANGELL XXX

www.musclebearporn.com/tour/

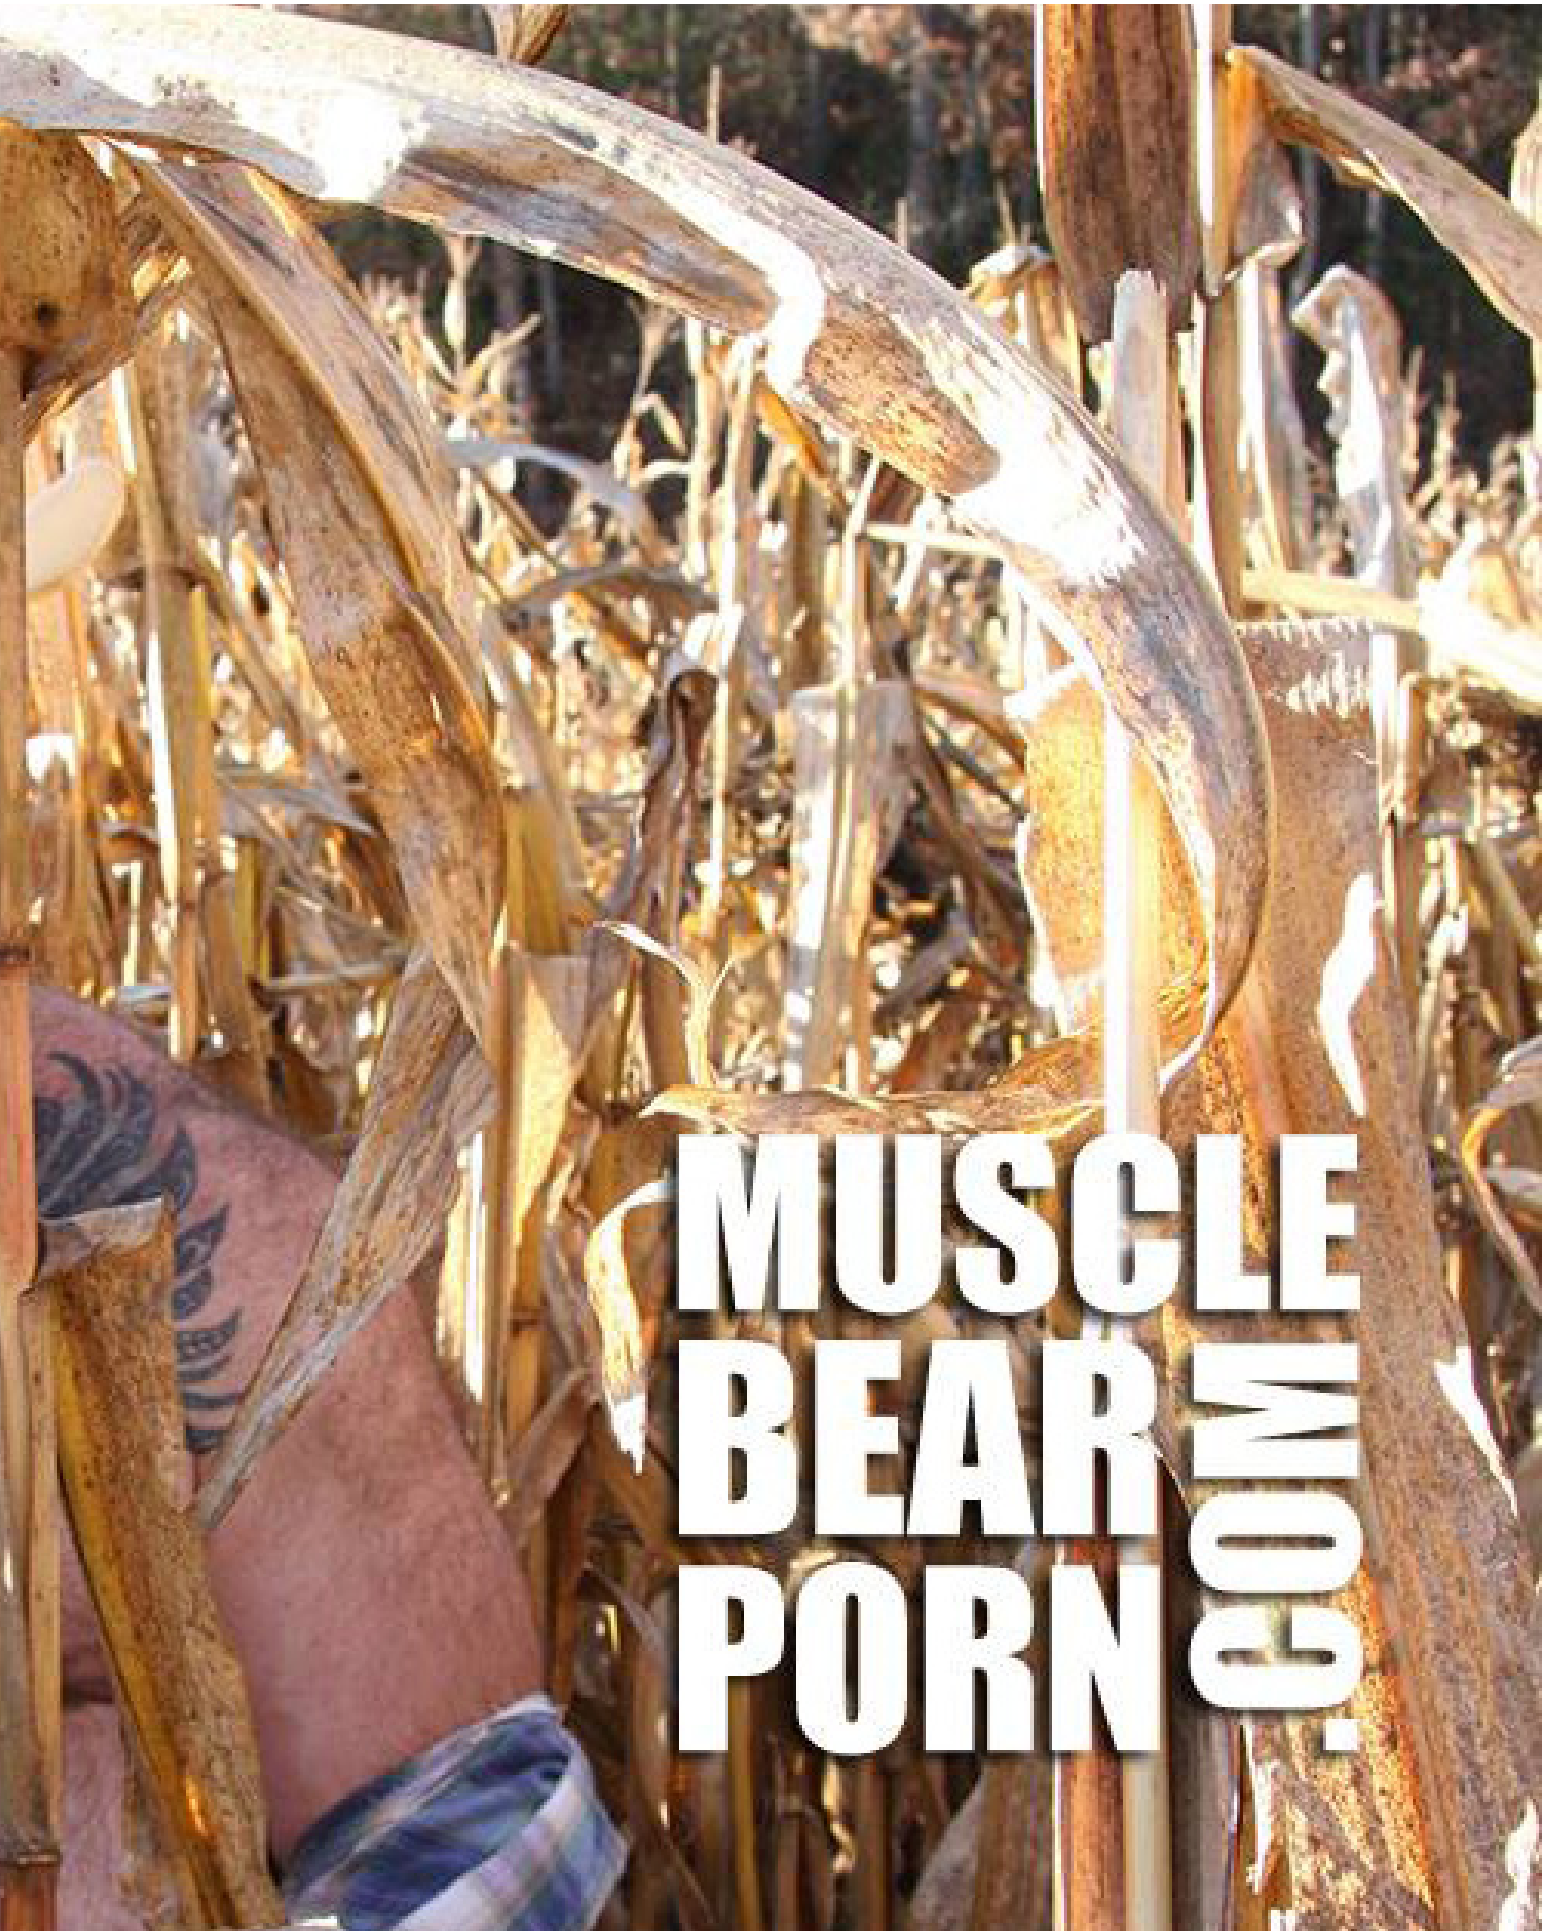

Will Angell is my constant myth among gay bears and daddy bears. I have been watching and enjoying him and his porn clips for many years. Ever since he did not have a big body and with a lot of hard work he made a very big and masculine body. I always enjoy watching his clips with his sexual partner Liam Angell. He has always played an active role in sex. For me, the most interesting sexual aspect of him is his personality, a personality that is close to the sexiest sexual partner I have always dreamed of. I only know her through the internet and I followed all his porn work, so I decided to choose photos of his and his sexual partner that I liked. A muscular body. Covered with fully furry body with a thick dick and always an insect and ready for sex. Without sex, he is one of the oldest gay bears in America. That his masculine and passionate personality always impresses me. daddy Angell in sexual relations shows unparalleled love play with other big men like Brad Calvo. Any homosexual who loves furry and muscular bears will enjoy him and the other models who play in his clips. I am one of those people who always use him as a myth and one of the sexiest gay bears as a role model and I am proud of myself and him for this. Although he has come a long way to be known as daddy will Angell. . I and other gay bears love you.DADDY and we proud of you man.

NUDE BEACH FOR GAY BEARS

Naked beach. Imagine that you are on a beach where all the gay bears are naked. Nudity on the beach is lustful. On such beaches, gays gather and show off their limbs. I like to sit for hours and just watch them naked. Most appointments take place on these beaches. That's why it's so tempting for me to be on a beach where naked bears show off. Furry bodies. Exercised muscles with large bellies or completely naked with a fat body. I have always wanted to see these beaches, but so far this situation has not occurred to me. I always suggest to gay bears to show their naked bodies on such beaches. The world of nudity is very enjoyable and I love nudity. When I am in this environment. I hug my love and kiss that bear deeply. And maybe I will show spectacular sex on these beaches. who knows ?!

WHAT MAKES YOU A GENTLEMAN?

A gentleman is one who puts more into the world than he takes out.

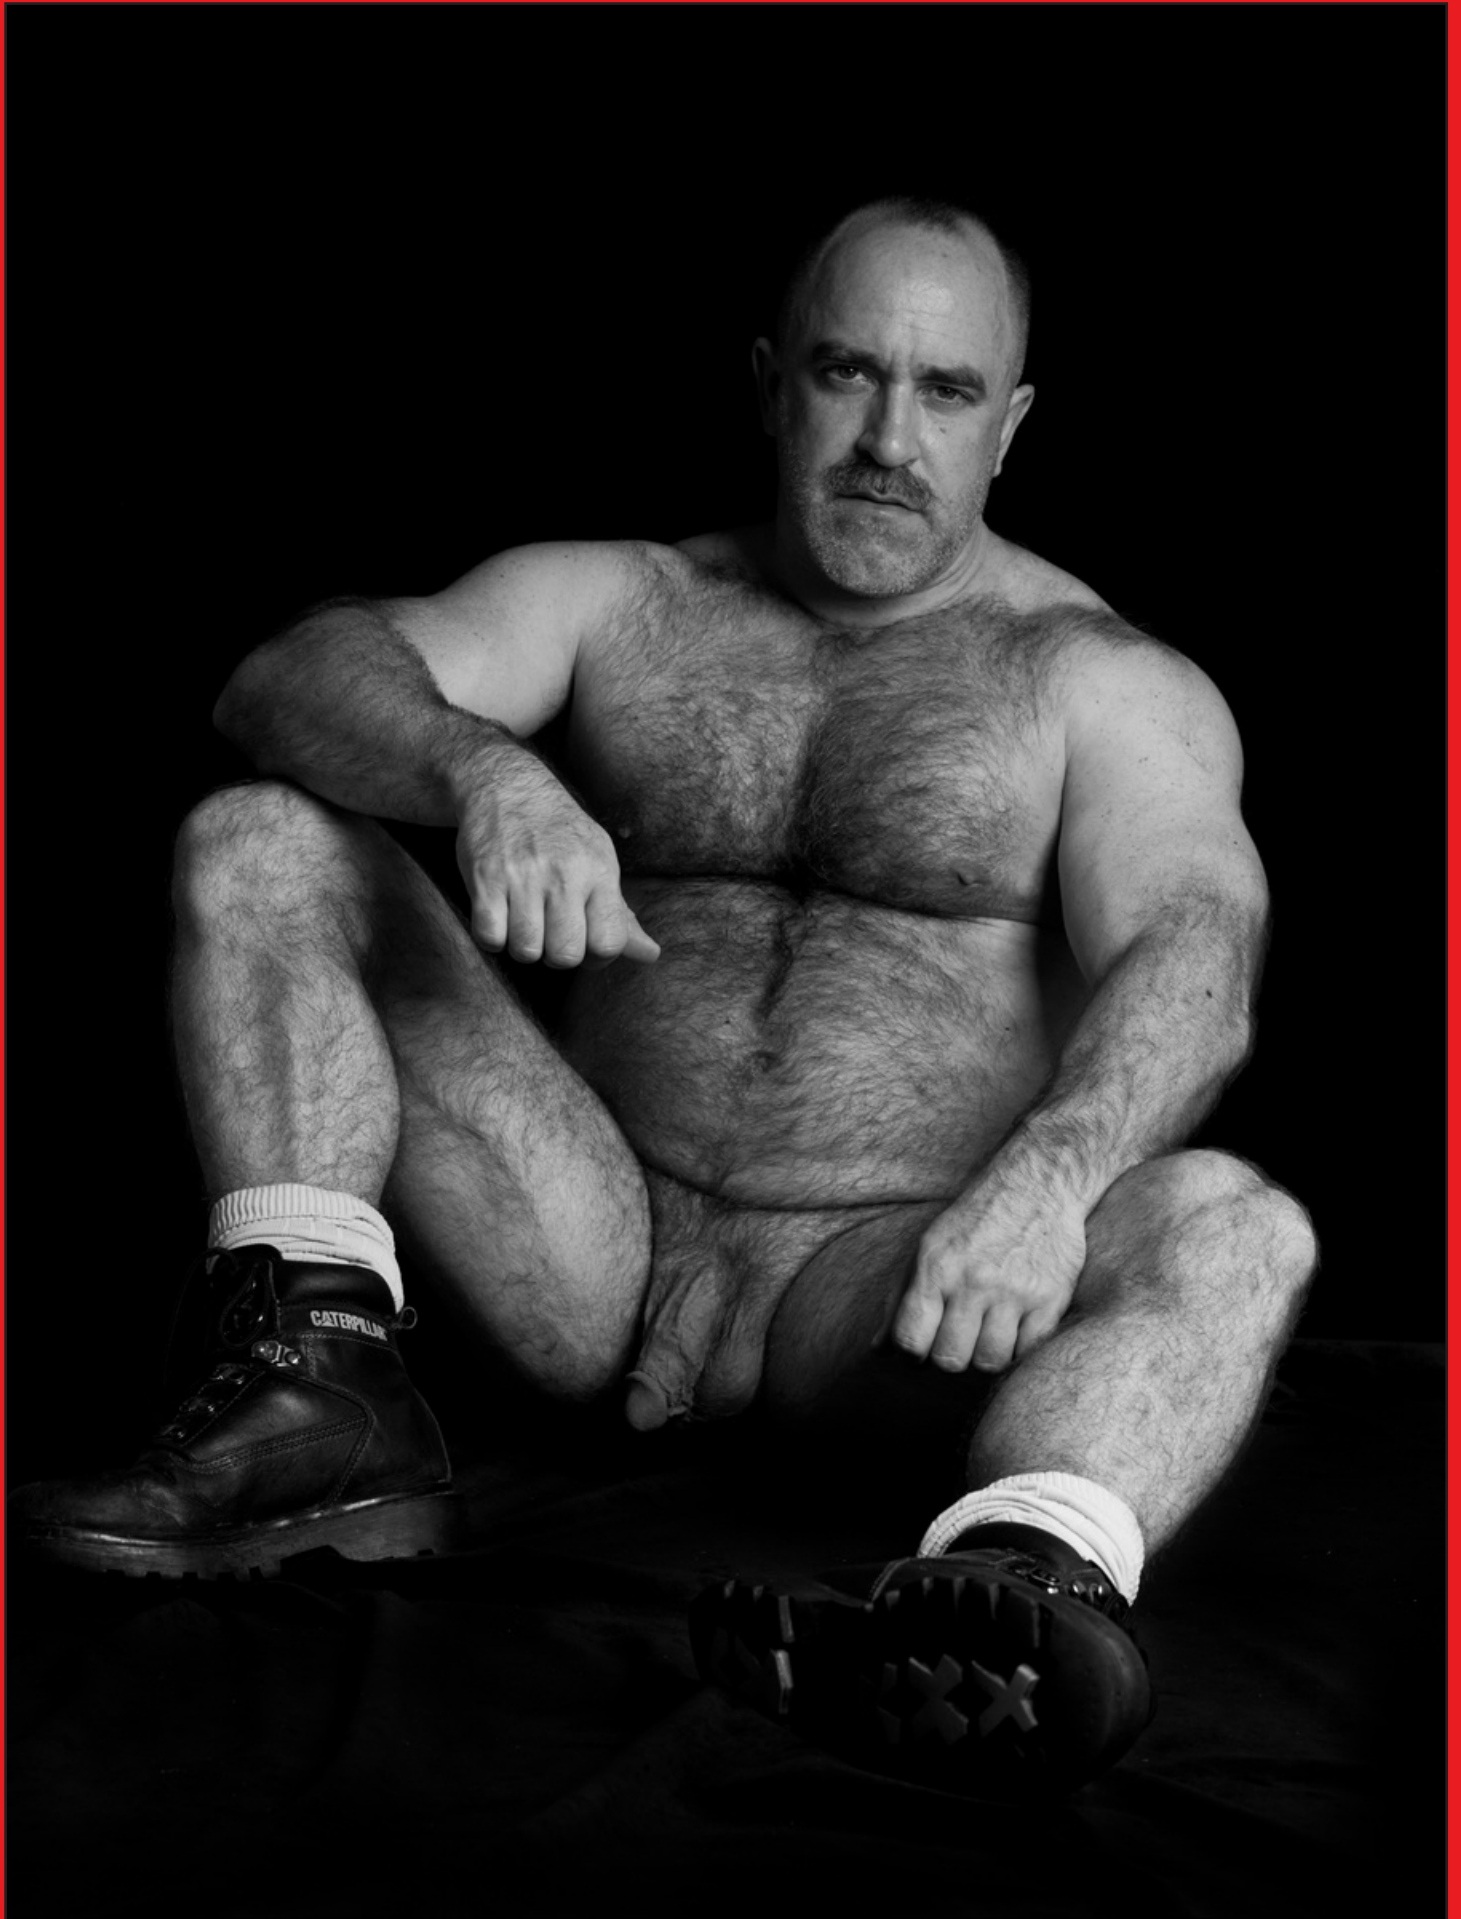

– George Bernard Shaw

Agentleman is someone that every man should aspire to be: an impeccably mannered, beautifully dressed, wonderfully generous asset to his family and friends – the type of man everyone else wishes they were. Becoming a gentleman is something that comes innately to few, but can be conquered by most: so what really makes you a gentleman? If you're blessed with these qualities, we salute you but if not, it's never too late.

Can you think of one quintessential gentleman who is rugged or unkempt in appearance? Remaining elegant and dapper at all times is an essential part of every gentleman's daily attributes; and no, we're not talking about his dress-sense. Your style is as individual as you are and a subjective topic rather than something for us to pick apart, but it is important to always ensure that you are wearing sharp, tailored, clean and well put together clothes. Every single part of your outfit needs to be in check, from the hat on your head to the shoes on your feet. A few general tips to take into account that will instantly raise your game are as follows: invest in bespoke tailoring as you're then going to have a unique, classic suit that will last you years. Never wear logos: this is often seen as vulgar and a gentleman should always remain understated and subtle. And always ensure that in your wardrobe you have, a sharp suit, an incredible overcoat, a selection of classic and neutral shirts, a couple of well-tailored blazers, an accessories selection that contains a fedora, pocket squares, amazing cufflinks, wonderful ties and a shoe collection that is second-to-none.

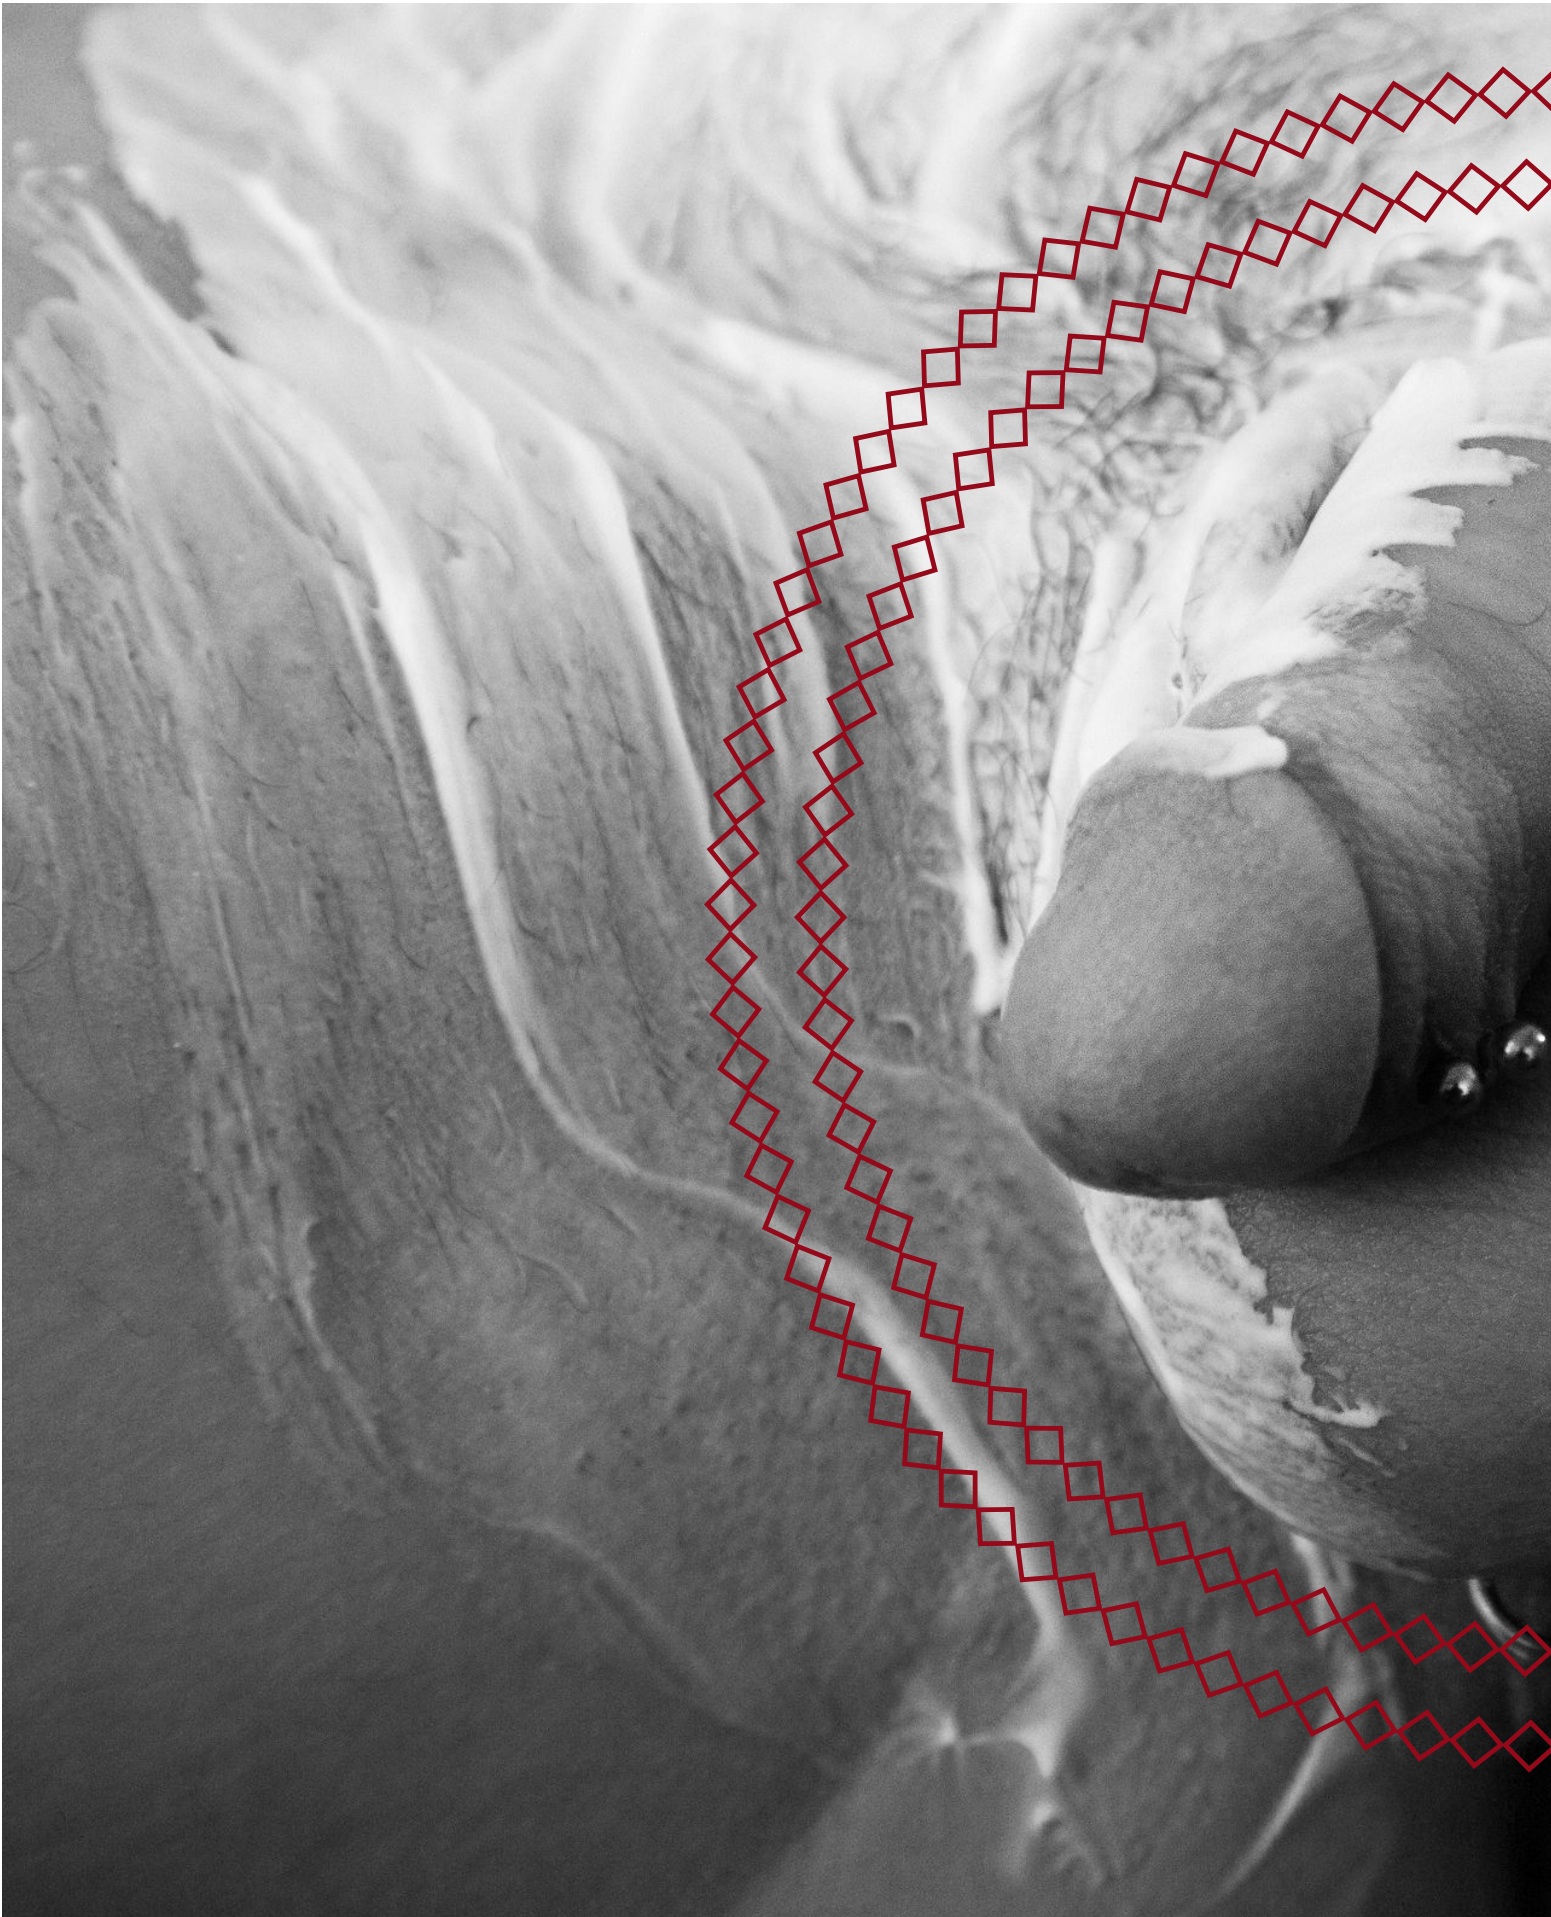

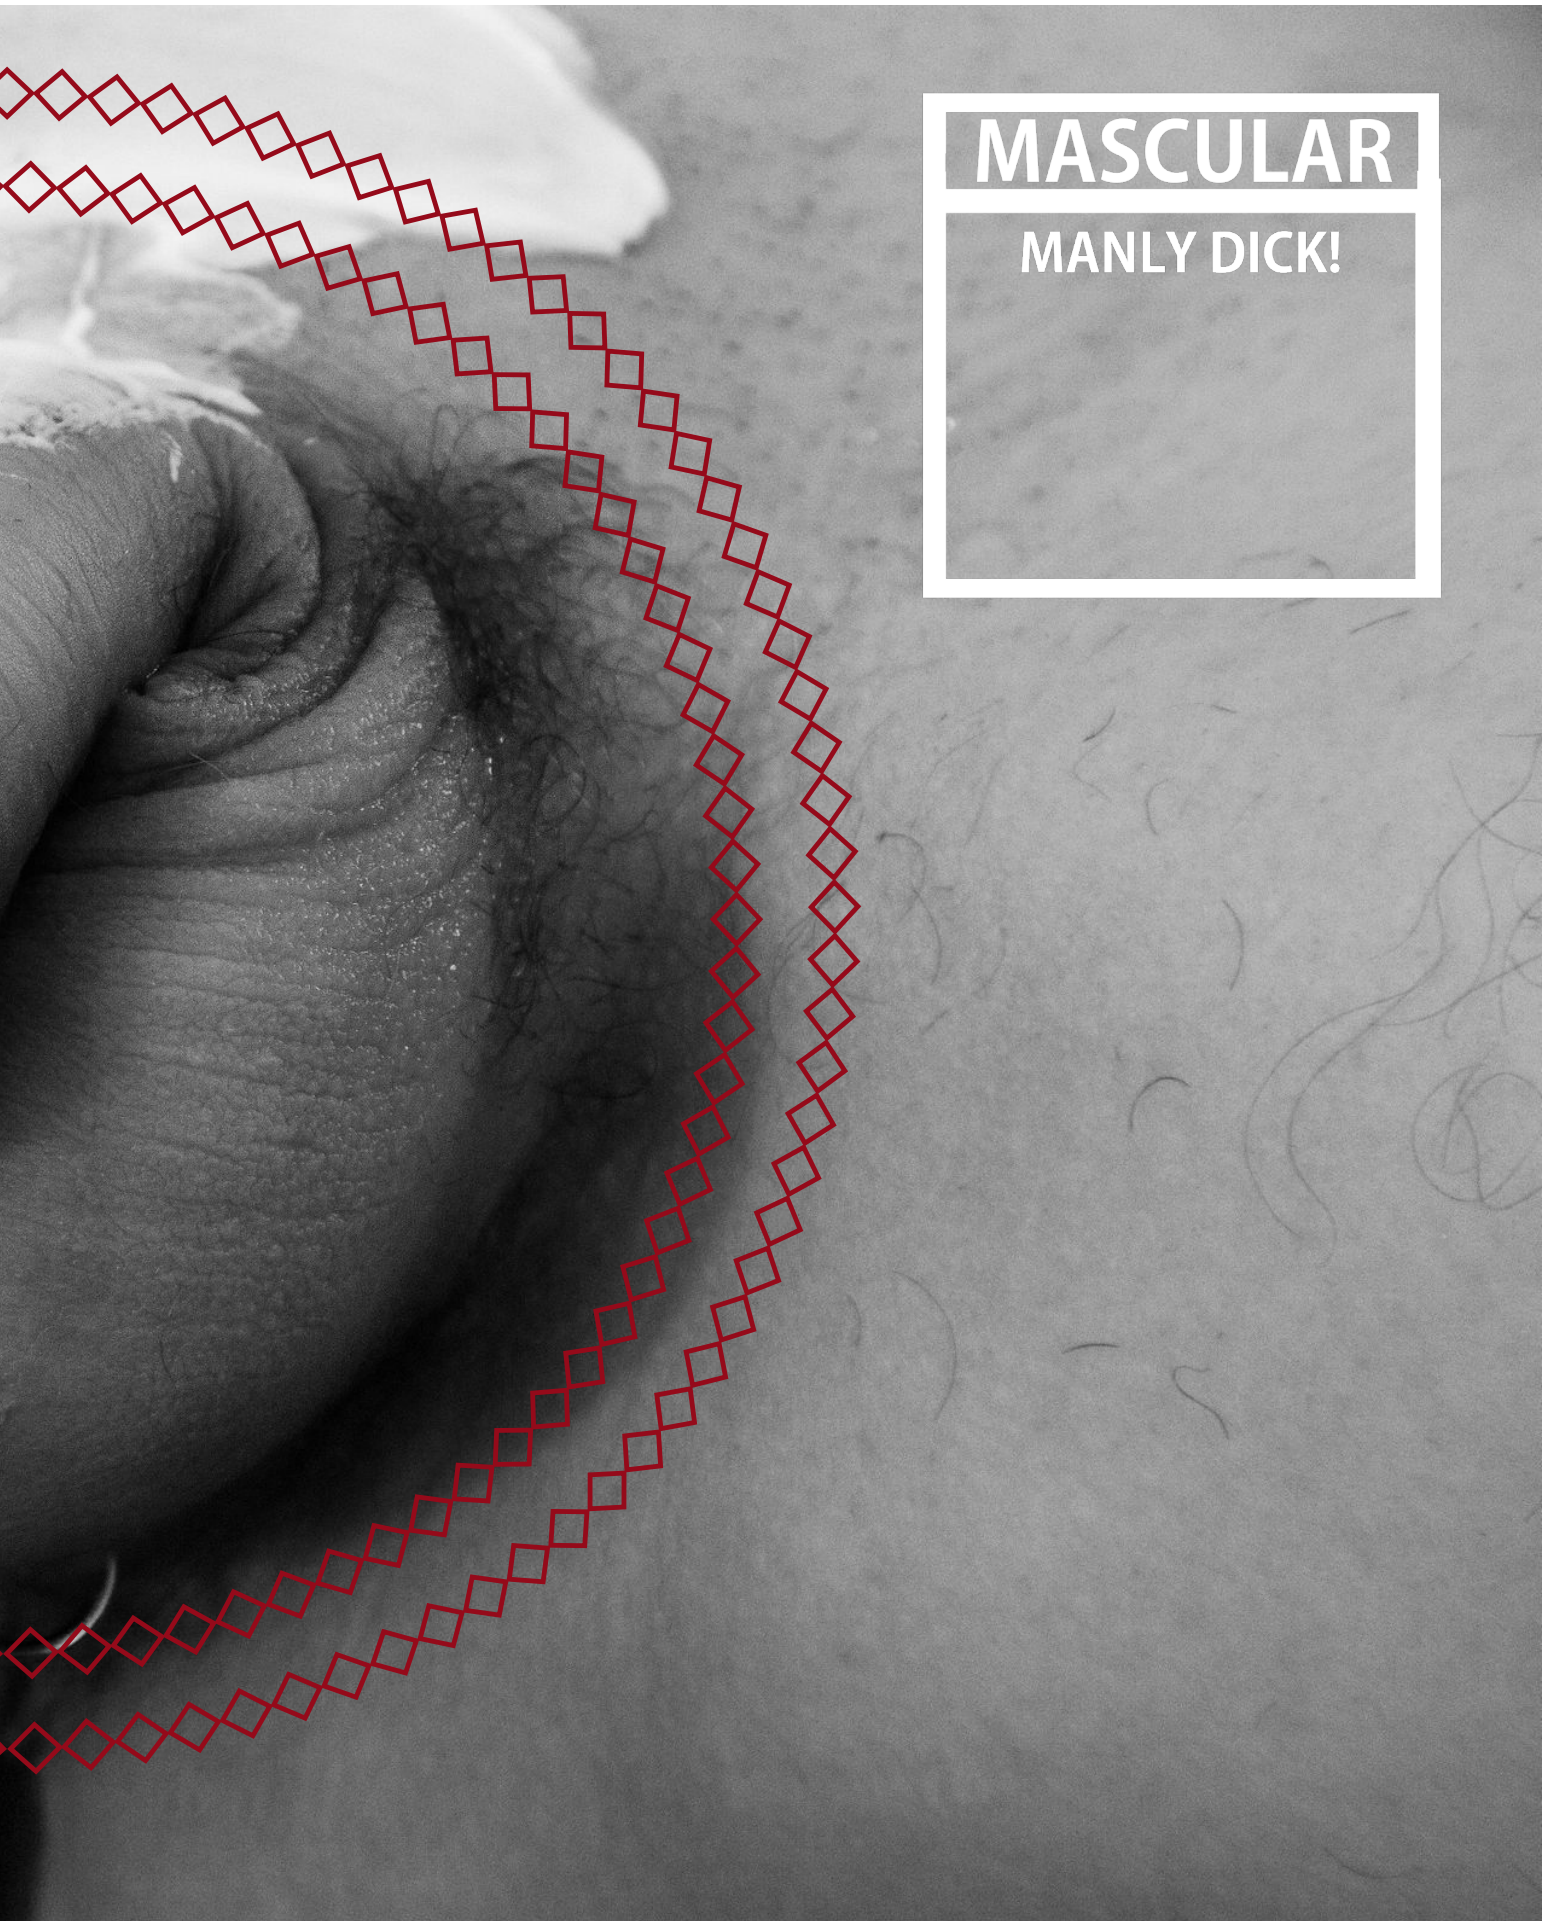

MASCULAR

MANLY DICK!

circumcised COCKS

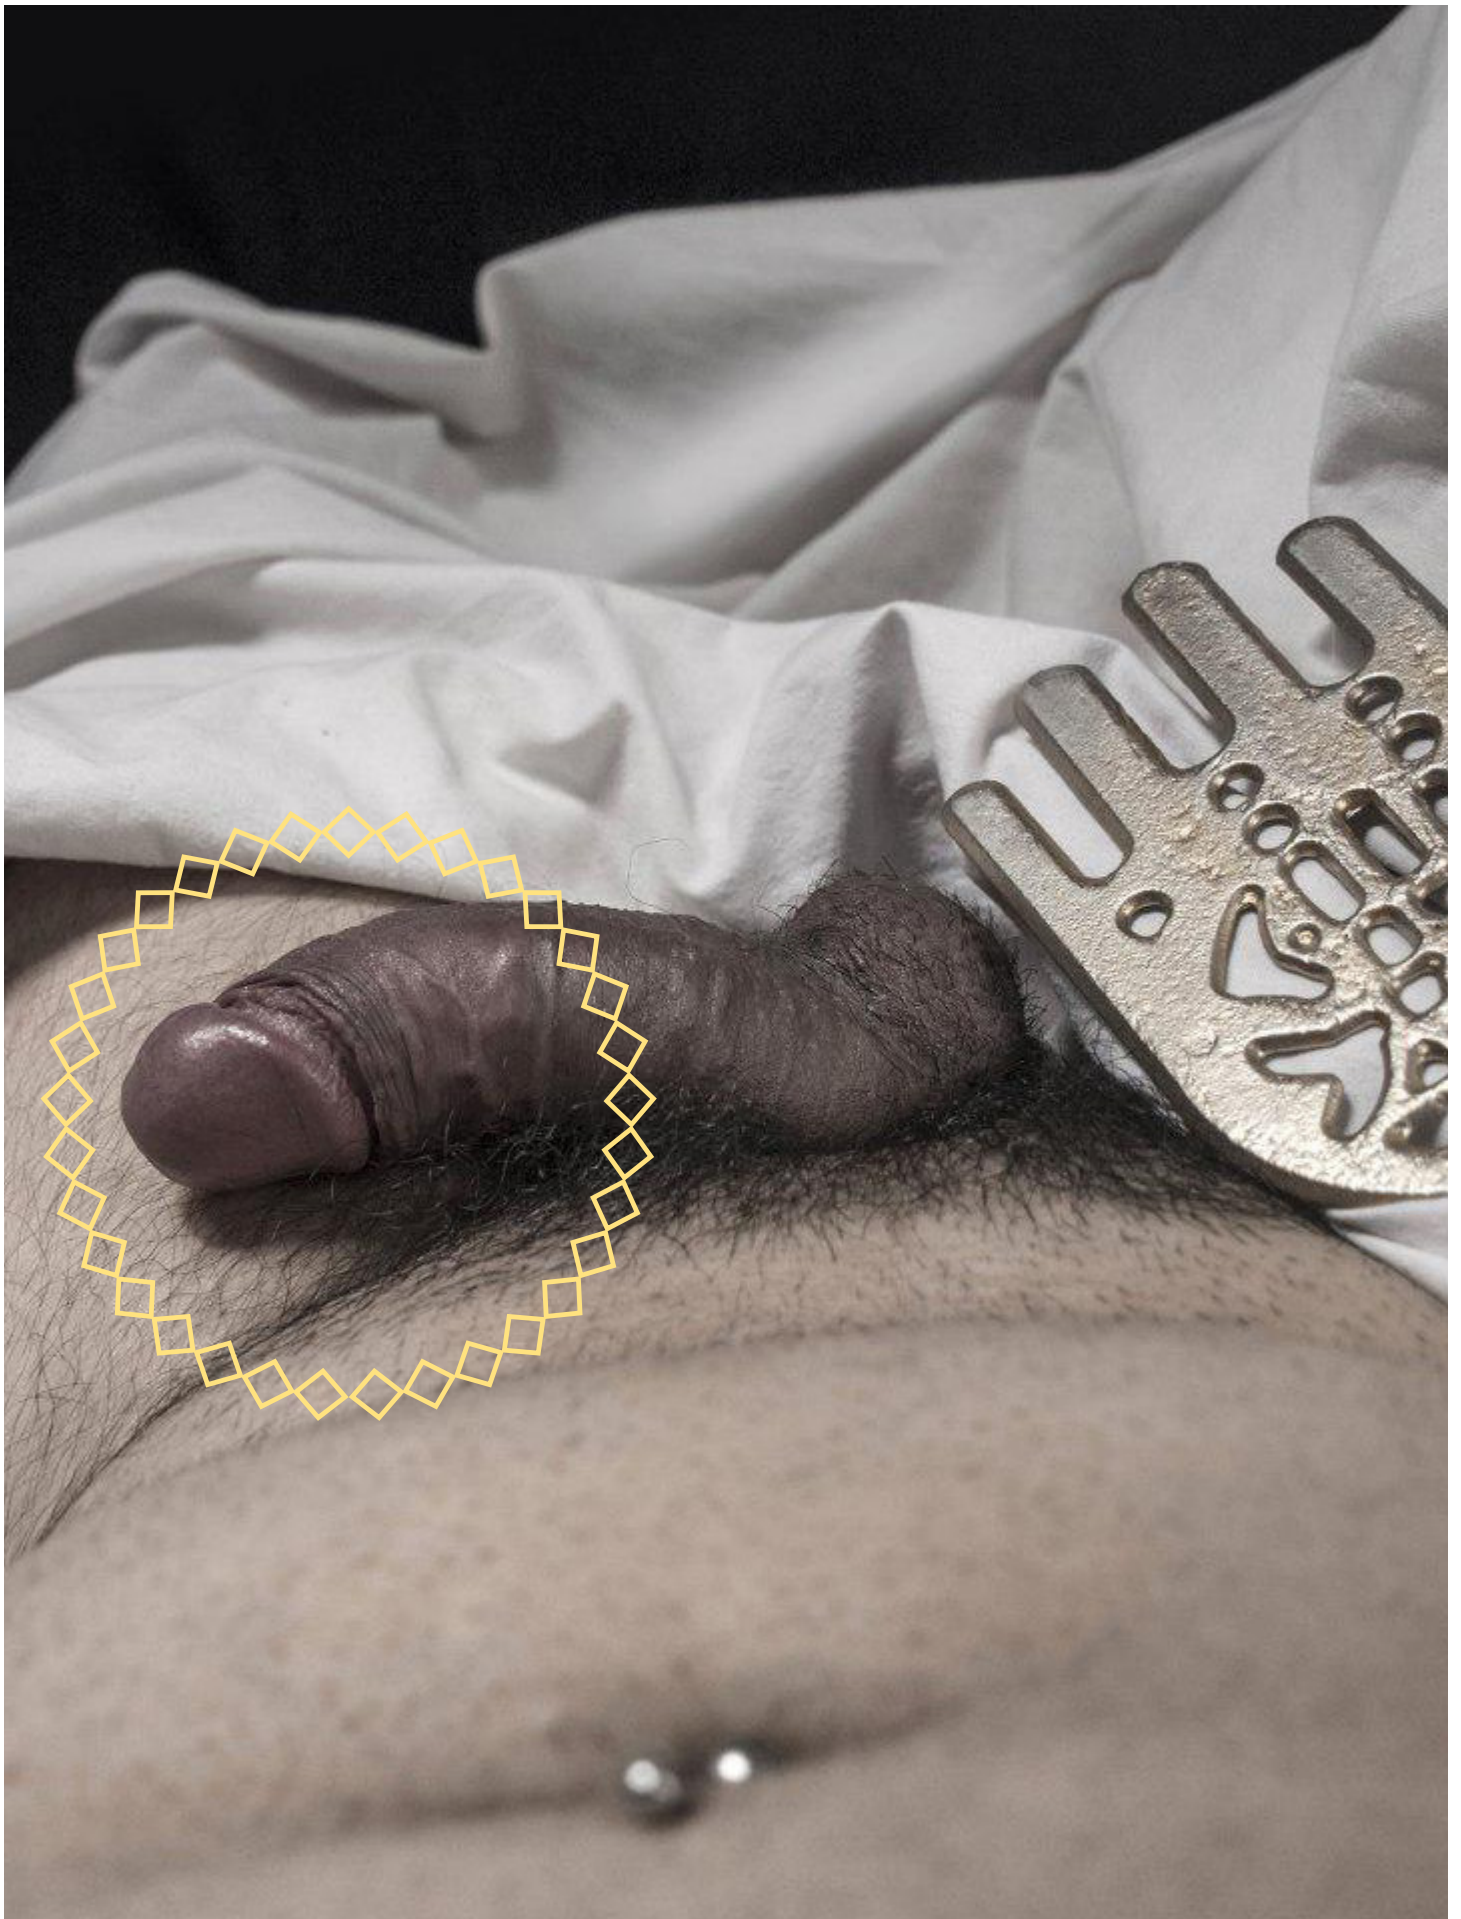

Circumcision is a surgical procedure that removes the foreskin of the penis. In an uncircumcised penis, the foreskin remains. The main differences include appearance and hygiene practices. An uncircumcised penis retains the foreskin, which covers the head of a nonerect penis. When the penis is erect, the foreskin pulls back to reveal the glans.

A circumcised penis has no foreskin, which exposes the glans when the penis is both erect and nonerect.

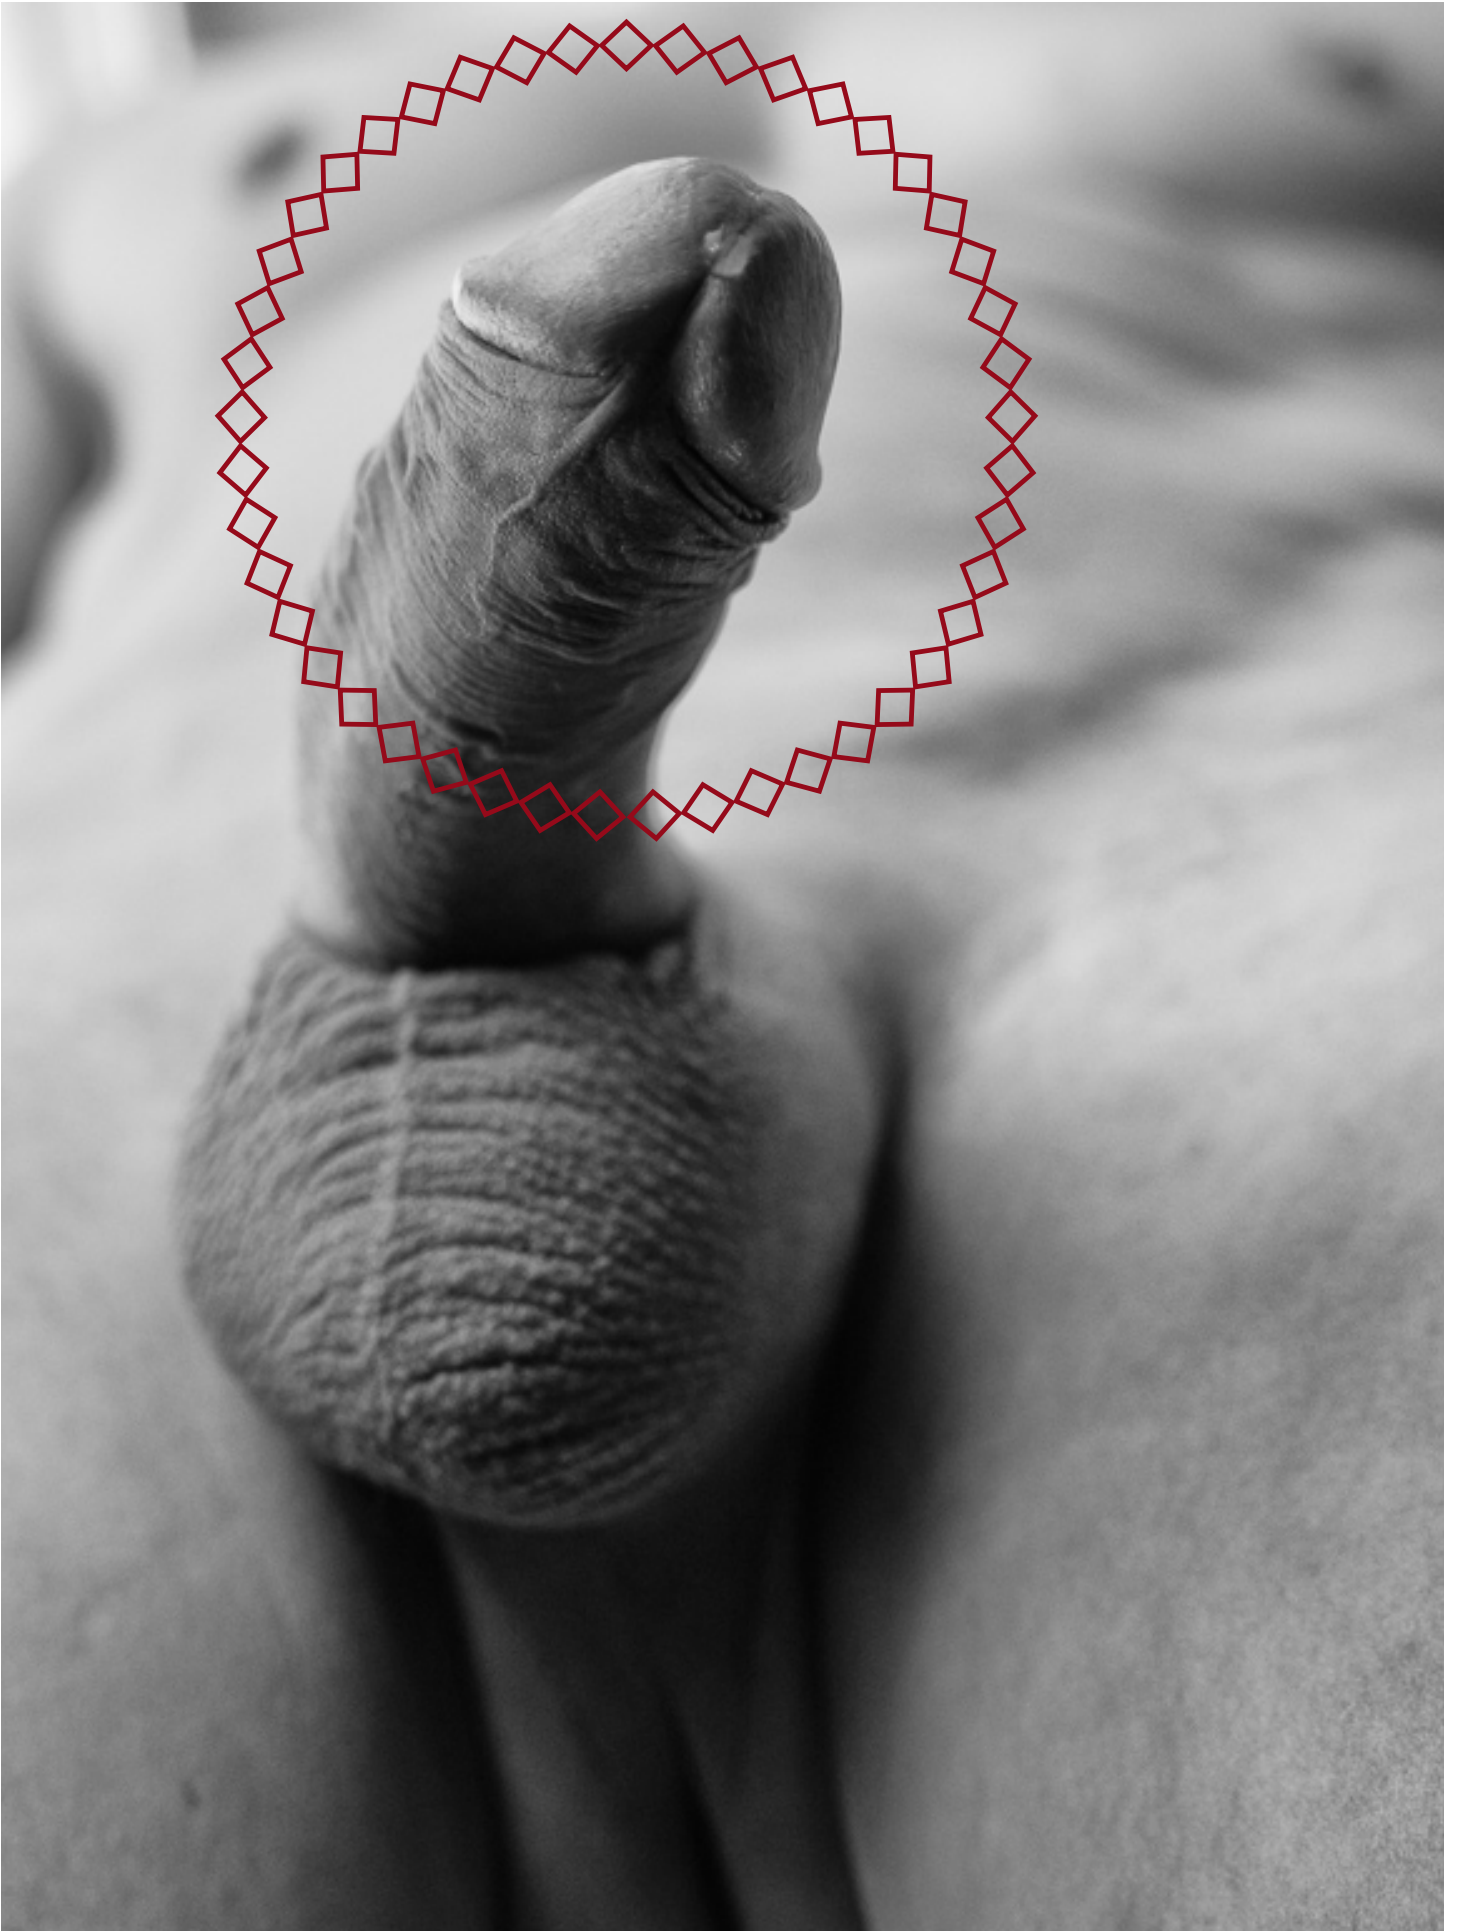

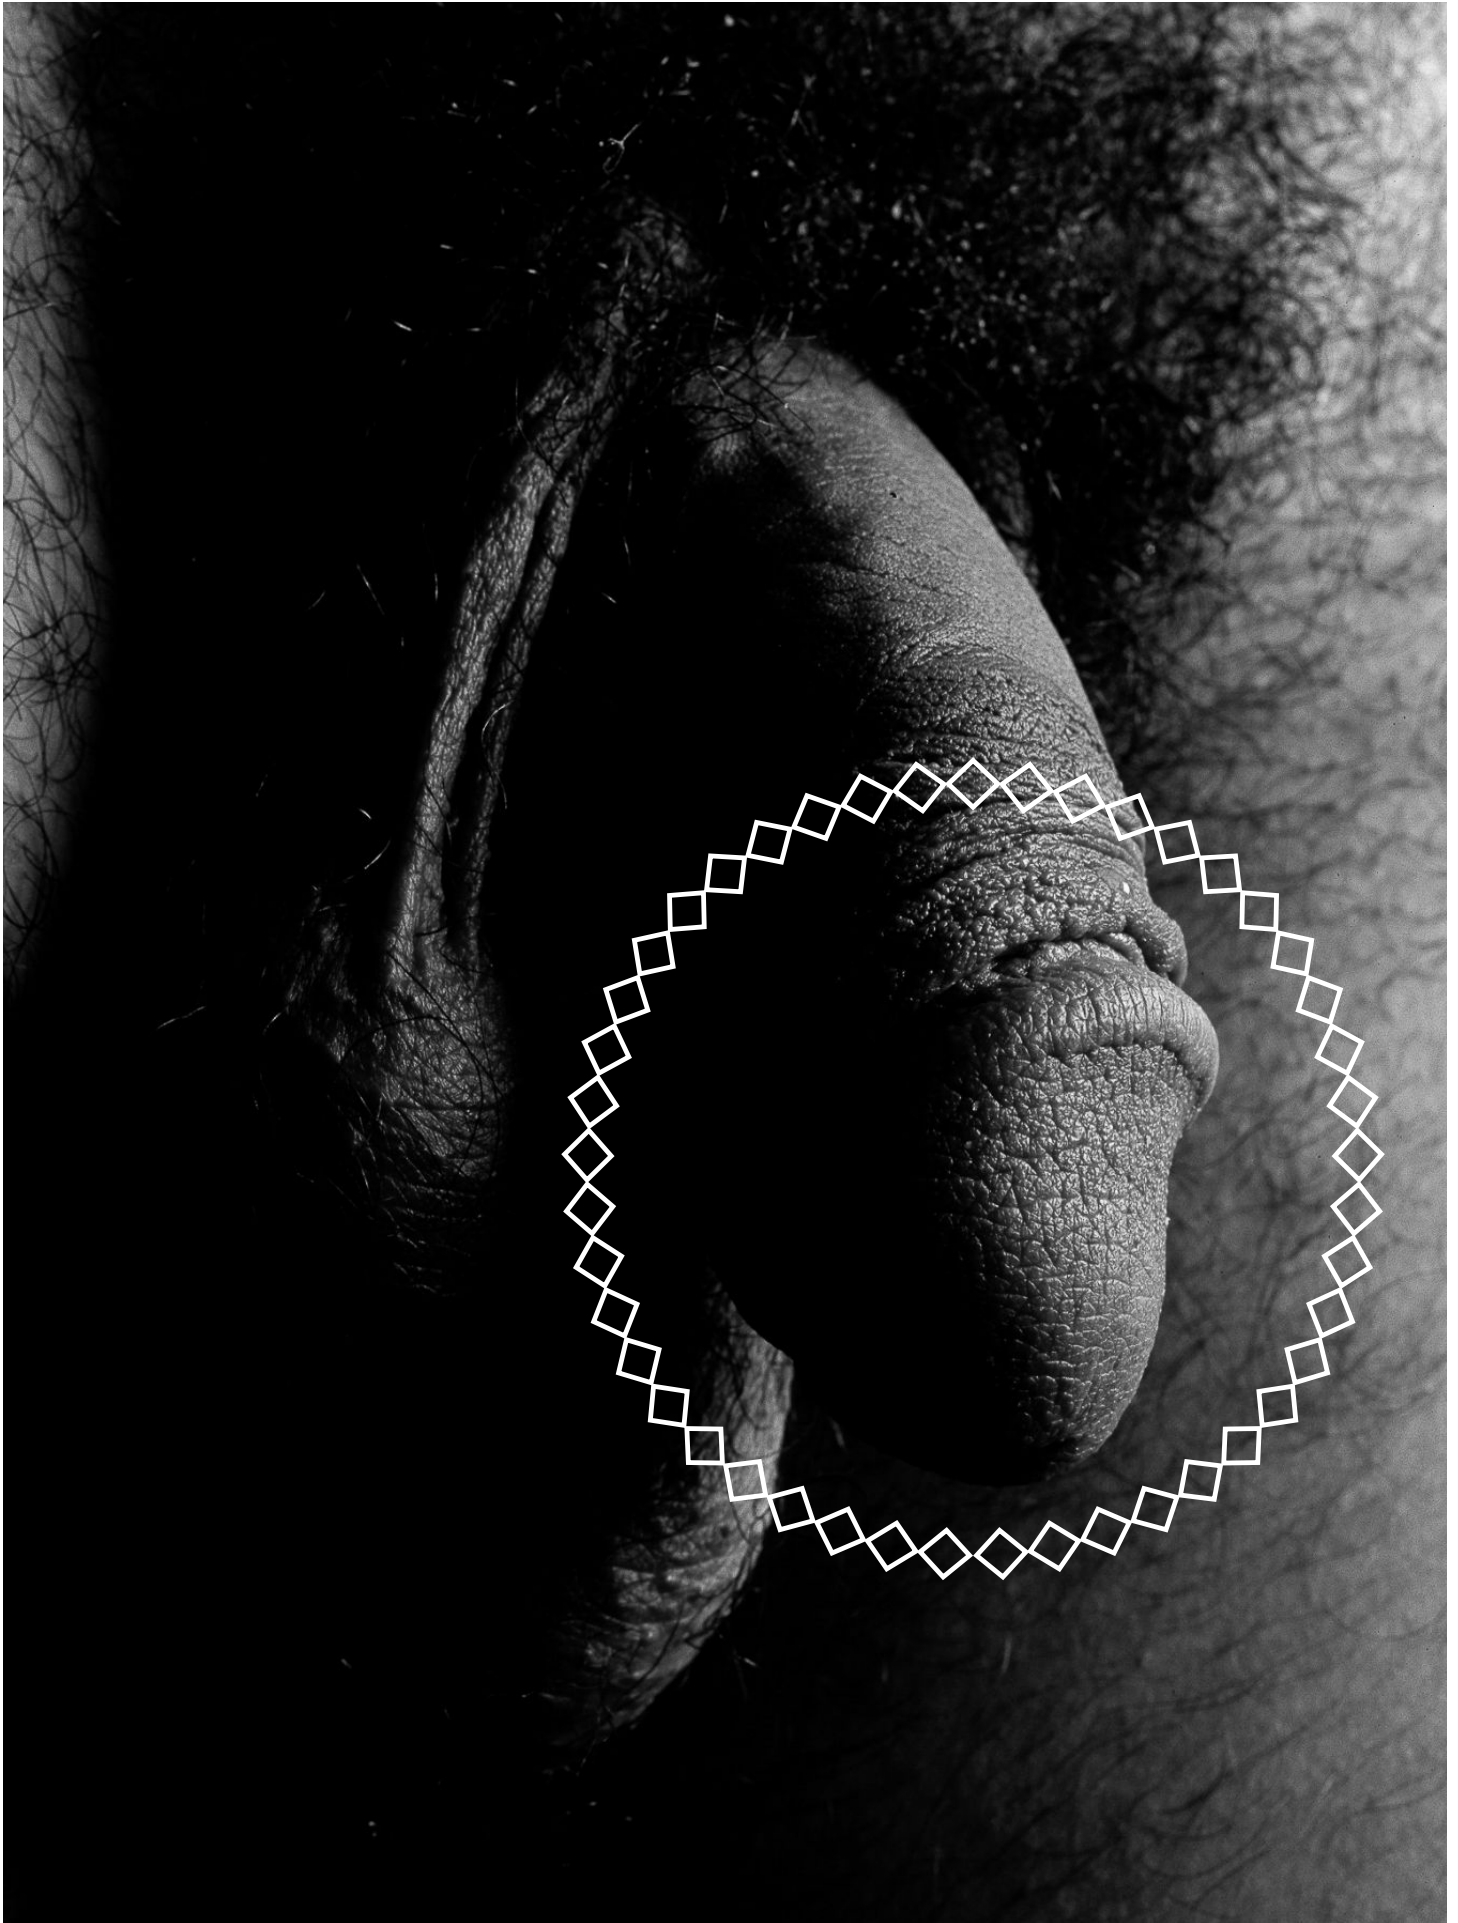

Scientific studies have produced conflicting reports on the effect of circumcision on sex. For example, one 2013 study looked at the sexual sensations of 1,059 uncircumcised males and 310 circumcised males. The group of circumcised males reported lower rates of sensitivity in the glans than the uncircumcised males.

A 2013 review looked at studies into the effect of male circumcision on sexual function and enjoyment. The review found that in the most accurate studies, circumcision had no negative effects on sexual function, sensitivity, pain, or pleasure during sexual intercourse.

Los Angeles based photographer Dusti Cunningham grew up in a very clean single-wide trailer home in rural Kansas. His family didn't own television so they watched tornadoes. None of his dogs were named Toto. Dolly Parton and his mother were his heroes, both wore wigs. His inspirations are gypsies, pirates, circuses, '70s porn, '30s glamour, and the National Enquirer.

Naked clown men. Ornaments. And the colorful backgrounds in the world of the rainbow with the lustful theme include Cunningham's photographs. No further explanation can be given for his photographs, as the images and photographs themselves speak to the audience. Cunningham was a photographer, I started my photography by seeing his naked clowns and I am always inspired by his artwork.
